NOTES FROM THE POTOMAC

John Stierna

Farm bill status and prospects—A lot of sizzle but no bacon. That would be one way of expressing the situation concerning the lack of movement on the Farm Bill. While the Senate passed a comprehensive Farm Bill back in June, the House took the bi-partisan Farm Bill approved by the House Agriculture Committee, amended it, and then promptly defeated it, largely on issues related to nutrition programs. Then the House successfully passed a farm-policy-only bill containing everything other than a nutrition title. The House leadership plans on having a nutrition bill considered on the House floor after the August recess, and then may appoint conferees to work out differences with the Senate.

The Senate moved forward in July by naming conferees. Senators who will participate are Chairwoman Debbie Stabenow (D-MI), Sen. Pat Leahy (D-VT), Sen. Tom Harkin (D-IA), Sen. Max Baucus (D-MT), Sen. Sherrod Brown (D-OH), Sen. Amy Klobuchar (D-MN), Sen. Michael Bennet (D-CO), Ranking Member Thad Cochran (R-MS), Sen. Pat Roberts (R-KS), Sen. Saxby Chambliss (R-GA), Sen. John Boozman (R-AR) and Sen. John Hoeven (R-ND).

Remaining steps for a farm bill include, appointment of conferees by the House (with or without a nutrition bill), a conference between both sets of conferees to resolve differences, enactment of a conference bill by both chambers, and then have it signed by the President. The current Farm Bill, a short term extension enacted last New Years, will expire on September 30th. While many are hopeful of getting a farm bill passed, some members of Congress are preparing for another extension, and suggesting it should be for a two-year period.

Appropriations—Although the House and Senate Appropriations Committees have reported out agriculture appropriations bills for FY 2014, neither chamber has yet considered them on the floor. Appropriations bills must begin with the House, so Senate action cannot occur until the House passes a bill.

Conservation operations funding proposed by the House Appropriations Committee is $810 million, while the Senate appropriators are proposing $818 million. This compares to $808 million for FY 2013 before sequestration.

Both the President’s Budget and the Senate appropriators do not provide any funding for the Watershed Rehabilitation Program, but the House Appropriations Committee is recommending $12 million for rehab work.

People—Jason Weller has been sworn in as Chief of the Natural Resources Conservation Service. He had been Acting Chief since the retirement of Dave White last December. Jason has previously served as Chief of Staff at NRCS and earlier in positions at the House Appropriations Committee, the House Budget Committee, and the Office of Management and Budget. He hails from CA where he worked with the state legislature.

Robert Bonnie was confirmed by the Senate and sworn in as Under Secretary for Natural Resources and the Environment for USDA. Robert has been serving as a senior advisor to the Secretary for five years. Prior to that, he was a senior staffer at the Environmental Defense Fund.

Krysta Harden was confirmed and sworn in as Deputy Secretary of Agriculture for USDA. Krysta has been a strong supporter of conservation over many years in various roles that she has served, including CEO of NACD before becoming Chief of Staff for Secretary Tom Vilsack.
After a lengthy nomination process, the Senate in July confirmed Gina McCarthy as Administrator of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Before being nominated and confirmed as Administrator, McCarthy served as Assistant Administrator for EPA’s Office of Air and Radiation. Prior to that, she served as Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection for the State of Connecticut. As EPA Administrator, McCarthy has begun to take steps to improve relationships between EPA and the agricultural community.

Chairwoman of the Senate Agriculture Committee Debbie Stabenow (D-Mich.) was recently honored by the Michigan Land Use Institute’s first Helen Milliken Legacy Award. Named for Michigan’s former first lady, the accolade recognizes a legacy of environmental advocacy and civil discourse.

Other Developments—Water Resources Development Act (WRDA)—The House’s version of a major water policy bill is slated to be marked up when Congress returns from recess in September, Transportation and Infrastructure Chairman Bill Shuster (R-PA) announced recently. Shuster had originally hoped to mark up his bill before Congress left town but was widely believed to be waiting for guaranteed floor time before moving the measure. The schedule announced has received the support of House leadership.

Agriculture Conservation Experienced Service (ACES) —a program established in the 2008 Farm Bill is provided somewhat greater funding in the proposed 2013 farm bill by eliminating some program exclusions that limited sources of funding. The program provides grants to eligible nonprofit organizations under the Community Senior Opportunities Act to secure participants who are age 55 or older to provide technical services in support of conservation related programs. Assuming a new Farm Bill is enacted, this program will continue. If you are interested in participating, please contact your state NRCS office.

When Congress returns from recess Sept. 9, it will have only nine days in which both the House and Senate are in session to address a bevy of issues with pressing deadlines. At the top of that list: a deal to keep the government running after the fiscal year runs out.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Warren M. Lee, wandblee@comcast.net

I wish to thank Mark Berkland for his leadership over the past two years. During his term as President of ARCSE, we migrated from a printed newsletter to primarily an electronic newsletter with colored pictures and plenty of space. This saves us postage on every newsletter, which has improved our budget situation significantly.

I also wish to thank Chuck Houston for making the local arrangements and emceeing our luncheon. We had 29 attendees, including several from CA. Senior Conservationist and pilot Amos Garrison and his navigator, Stan Hobson flew in from Boise, ID, on Amos’s airplane for the event. I was fortunate to have worked with both of these great conservationists and enjoyed the opportunity to renew friendships. We all appreciated Bruce Peterson’s, State Conservationist for Nevada, comments on the status of NRCS in Nevada and the issues they are currently facing.

Congratulations go to two individuals who received the President’s Award for Meritorious Service. The first went to James R. Canterberry who was given the award for his efforts to stimulate the ARCSE activities in North Carolina. North Carolina has gained 22 members and held an annual picnic with 90 attendees. The second went to Michael Kuck for his efforts to stimulate ARCSE activities in South Dakota. Seventeen new members have joined, and a reunion of retirees in the state was held in early August.

The President’s Award for Outstanding Community Service went to the very deserving August “Gus” Dornbusch. Gus had a distinguished career with the Soil Conservation Service and was a decorated veteran earning the Bronze Star in Vietnam. His leadership and tireless efforts didn’t stop with his “official duties.” He gave tirelessly over the years to the many communities he lived in, always having a positive impact on those around him. Over the years he has been involved in school activities, service clubs, and church and community activities. His passion has been to help children make a difference in their lives serving as a mentor and positive role model. He has been a coach, was active in the Boy Scouts and YMCA, and is very active in the Kiwanis having served as the President of the local chapter and Governor of Division 21 which has 193 clubs and over 6,400 members.

Some say one individual cannot make a difference, but the testimony of one individual that Gus mentored, say one can. In 1998 Gus was assigned a 6th grade Vietnamese refugee to mentor under a program, TEAMMATES, started by Tom and Nancy Osborne (Tom is a former coach of the Nebraska Cornhuskers). This young man was small for his age and the subject of school bullies. His behavior had become a problem and school grades suffered. As a direct result of Gus’s mentoring and serving as a positive role model, this individual went on to graduate high school and obtain a BS in Computer Science. He invited Gus to attend his graduation ceremonies and has told many that he doesn’t know where he would have ended up if it were not for Gus. This young man now travels around Nebraska as an ambassador for the TEAMMATES program. Church has always been an important part of Gus’s life. He has served in leadership positions everywhere he lived and in two separate locations helped lead the effort to build new churches. Congratulations, Gus, and thanks for making a difference.
ARCSE is in need of a web master. If you have some expertise in web design and maintenance and are interested and willing to assist us in this new capacity, we would love to hear from you. If you wish more details contact Jerry Bernard (jbernard.nrcsret@gmail.com), our newsletter Editor. It’s not too early to put next year’s meeting on your calendar. It will be held in the Chicago area in conjunction with the Soil and Water Conservation Society, July 27-30, 2014.

ARCSE National Luncheon

Comments from Bill Ward, CA: Just wanted to let you know all the CA folks really enjoyed our afternoon at the annual National retiree luncheon Monday. I am sure you can count on Charles now to join ARCSE and probably some other CA folks when I make my next pitch.

It was great to see you (Ron Marlow), Warren Lee, Chuck Houston, and a half dozen others I worked with in some capacity during my career. It was also very nice to meet several new retirees from other parts of the Country and ARCSE office members as well. You folks have to be commended for all you do to keep us all up to date on what is going on with the retirees and to stay connected. Charles Davis is shown at the slot machines, for fun both before and after our meeting. Editor’s Note: I am sure he “broke even.”

State Historical Marker to be Unveiled in South Carolina

On August 29, 2013, an official South Carolina historical marker will be unveiled at the Montgomery Building in Spartanburg, SC, to commemorate the first office of NACD, the National Association of Conservation Districts, first organized as the National Association of Soil Conservation District Governing Officials, and then the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

As Neil Sampson recounts in For Love of the Land, Hugh Bennett stood ready to organize a national association of the conservation districts. This they did this in Chicago in 1946, and the group was captured in a photograph. There is a lone woman in the photograph, Ellen S. Cobb. She then worked in the Montgomery Building as an employee in the SCS southeastern regional office, headed by Bennett’s personal and professional friend, Dr. Thomas Buie. The group in Chicago elected E. C. McArthur of Gaffney, SC, as its first president. McArthur was a leader in the state association, and Ellen Cobb had worked with him since 1938. The group authorized him to hire her as Executive Secretary. After returning to the Montgomery Building, she carried out voluminous correspondence for McArthur, until his death in 1947, the result of an automobile accident as he was driving home to Gaffney from Columbia. John W. Parris led the successful effort to commemorate the first NACD office. He joined the South Carolina conservation districts agency in 1966, became its head in 1972 and retired in 1994. In his work as director of the South Carolina Land Resources Commission, he created the Soil Conservation Districts Foundation.

Montgomery Building, Spartanburg SC, site of first NACD office
Dear Roy,

As the wife of a former Administrator (Chief) of the Soil Conservation Service of Mel Davis, I would like to thank you and our friends within ARCSE for spreading the word of Mel’s death. I received so many condolences from friends who had worked with Mel and I would like all of them to know how much I appreciated their kind words.

Mel was fiercely loyal and supportive of ACS. He had an intense desire to do his work with integrity and his was a powerful work ethic. Most everyone who worked with him knew that he rose through the ranks of ACS from his very rural beginnings in sparsely populated North Dakota to becoming Administrator. He was very proud of his beginnings and very humble at the same time. I think it was for this reason that coworkers in their words—considered him “friendly, conflict-free, unassuming, willing to help, and a wonderful supervisor, but as Mel would have said—’no one will lay anything bad about you.’”

His ashes were interred in the N. D. Veterans’ Cemetery in Mandan, N. Dak. on Sept. 6 and there will be a memorial service at Trinity United Lutheran Church, 1127 8th St., Yuma, Ariz. 85367 on Sat. Nov. 2, 2013 at 11:00 A.M.

I especially want to thank Karl Klingelhofer, our Southwest Rep. for being a friend and letting ARCSE members know of Mel’s death.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Davis

ARCSE Representatives Report

Ron Marlow, Secretary-Treasurer

New Representatives. I want to welcome two new state representatives. Upon retirement of one of our long time representatives, George Norris, the new state representative for Georgia is Edward Ealy. Edward retired in December 2011 as State Soil Scientist for NRCS in Georgia. George provided good leadership for ARCSE activities in his state, and his efforts are deeply appreciated by the ARCSE Board. Veronica (Roni) Schadegg is now the representative in Wyoming, filling a position that has been vacant for years. Roni recently joined ARCSE after retiring from NRCS as an Administrative Assistant in Wyoming. The ARCSE Board is extremely pleased to see these two new members stepping forth into leadership roles.

I (Karl) just returned from a week in Maine for my 87th birthday. Have one son and family there and my other son and his wife from CA were there for 3 days. So I had a great birthday. Two days of rain and then 3 days of perfect weather for the day of my birthday when we used the motorboat to go out on Rockport Bay for about 3 hours. We have had record heat this summer and now are in the monsoon season when we are supposed to have considerable rain. However, the storms seem to be going around where I live; thunder and lightning but no rain. Did have 1.25” a couple weeks ago and another 1.3” on 8/23. Some areas have had flooding.

Gary R Nordstrom of Prescott Valley reports - In August Jayne and I drove to KS to visit our son David and his family at Fort Riley, Manhattan, KS. In September we will fly east so that Jayne can attend a get-together at Harper’s Ferry, WV, with several of her friends who are spouses of NRCS retirees. While they are having their get-together, the guys, Ed Nelson, Billy Millken, Ron Clark, Herschel Read, and I will visit and play golf for four days.

Bill and Joyce Fobair of Cottonwood—36 Years of Zephyring End. A few months ago, Joyce and Bill sold their 1941 Lincoln-Zephyr Coupe with custom interior. Of the 1,152 built with this body style, 77 had the custom interior and, to their knowledge, was the only one left that was authentically restored. They drove the Zephyr to local meets, trailered it to more distant ones, and ultimately racked up over 40,000 miles in pursuing the hobby. From the first judged show in 1995 to the last, it won Best of Show and Mayor’s Choice. In between it won over 150 awards, among them the Best of Show at Ford’s Lincoln 75th anniversary in 1995 and Ford’s 100th anniversary in 2003, both at Dearborn. It was a great hobby, one that required research and challenges in restoration but more importantly, the opportunity to meet other enthusiasts along the way.
Steve Black, Phoenix: I traveled back to Illinois a couple of time this summer to work at my farm in Greene County, IL and to attend my 50th high school reunion. For the past three months I have been working on remodeling a condo in Sun City, AZ that I bought and now have it on the market.

Ken and Connie Cookson of Tucson went on a week trip to the Copper Canyon area in Mexico this spring. Highlights of the trip included an overnight stay in the resort town of San Carlos on the Sea of Cortez. It was the week prior to spring break and they were bracing for the onslaught. This is a beautiful area and beckons to tourists. Another highlight was the town of Alamos. This is a restored mining area and is very picturesque--an area we would like to go back to. The highlight of the trip was a train ride through 84 tunnels to Posadas Barrancas in the heart of Copper Canyon country. The canyon is larger than the Grand Canyon but was not formed in the same way. We got to see how the Tarahumara Indians live and their culture. They have been in this area for centuries.

We were surprised at the amount of agriculture we saw on the trip. Numerous vineyards, corn, wheat, apples and peaches to name a few but also plenty of desert. We saw many miles of the famous border fence as we came back into the US.

Rodney M. Alt: Surprise! I went to the Masters Golf Tournament with my son Rod in Augusta, GA in April. My wife Sally and I went to two high school graduations for two grandchildren in Colorado and Maryland in May and June. I went to Scotland in July with my son Rod to play golf for 7 days. We went to Colorado in August to watch my grandson Rodeo in the Colorado Junior Rodeo.

Nine retirees and five wives gathered on August 9th in North Little Rock for lunch and visiting. It was an enjoyable occasion with a lot of stories, some true. It was especially nice to have the wives present, even though it may have reduced some of the tall tales. As usual, George Dahlke and John Henry were responsible for getting the group together. Those in attendance were Pat and Linda Bass, Tony Stevenson, Bob and Kay Bush, Bert Finch, John Henry, Robert and Dru Cantrell, Jim and Carol Arrington, George and Esta Dahlke, and Whitey Spears.

Our 28th consecutive annual meeting will happen on September 19th at the 4-H center in Ferndale, Arkansas.

Hello from CA to all our fellow SCS and NRCS retirees across the nation. CA retirees have two exciting things to share that occurred in July and August. First, On July 10th, 32 CA retirees met for our monthly luncheon with a very special Guest, Cal Crabill, one of 26 Dust Bowl survivors who were interviewed in the making of the amazing Dust Bowl Documentary by Ken Burns that came out in November of 2012! Cal is a Davis resident and was invited to share with our retirees what it was like for him as a child and his family living in the Dust Bowl area in Colorado almost 80 years ago. It was fascinating for all of us to hear Cal talk about those times that were the impetus for the creation of our agency. We captured Cal’s talk on video, and we are very happy to share that talk with our retirees across the country with the following Youtube link:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iewjMNOSwgA.

Following is an excellent link from PBS with more information about Cal:

http://www.pbs.org/kenburns/dustbowl/bios/calvin-crabill/

You will notice below that Cal is a music lover and plays trumpet in a 19-piece big band! My opportunity to meet Cal and invite him to speak to our retirees came about as a result of us both being musicians and music lovers. Here are a few pictures from the luncheon.

Our second item to share is an original tribute song, “Our Golden Land,” written to mark and celebrate the 75th anniversary of our agency. It was written by me and my good friend and fiddle player, Melvin Fong. We recorded it in August, and I shared it with our National Headquarters, with our blessing to use it or share it as they saw fit. Three days later it was shared by the National Public affairs staff to all 50 states, being included as one of 6 “Daily clips,” (news or items of interest) that are distributed to the State Public affairs officers.

CA NRCS Retiree Sings a Salute to Soil Stewardship” (Youtube): Retired NRCS CA Civil Engineer Bill Ward and violinist Melvin Fong play “Our Golden Land,” their thoughtful tribute to soil stewardship. The final verse: “Hard times our ancestors met, with the wind, what dust, what sorrow; But now we till our soil with wisdom, for all our children’s tomorrows; It took years in the making, and tears to understand; What love and time can bring about, will heal this broken land.

“Our Golden Land”

Verse 1
We walk on tender soil, a sacred trust we keep
We sow it day by day and wait to see what we will reap
The work is never done, but the call is ours to heed
When we listen to our Golden Land, it can give us what we need

Chorus
We will tend and heal and work to keep this holy ground far and near

Verse 2
God bless the hands that work to save, the soil, our life blood here
As we’re living in our Golden Land
For every seed that we plant, a prayer is also sown
A bless-ed hope for harvest, our dreams become full grown
But fire, flood, wind and rains, what dangers lie unknown
O Lord don’t wash our dreams away until they become our own

Verse 3
Hard times our ancestors met, with the wind, what dust, what sorrow
But now we till our soil with wisdom, for all our children’s tomorrows
It took years in the making, and tears to understand
What love and time can bring about, will heal this broken land
End song lyrics
In final closing, a quote from Hugh Hammond Bennett: “Take care of the land, and the land will take care of you.”

FLORIDA

When Spring comes, Ida Cuthbertson hears the call of the Open Road. This year she heads to western Colorado and Utah. On May 1, she hears the weather report: snow storm coming across Colorado. Next morning in Dodge City her car is frozen shut, a rare experience for this full-time Floridian. Only one thing to do--visit Boot Hill. Then on to Montrose via US 50.

Son Jim and Rebecca like their Montrose home; Jim says he now enjoys the scenery that 35 years ago he moved to Colorado to see. After a weekend with them Ida drives to Zion for 3 days, then Bryce, finally Arches National Parks. Back to Montrose for Mother's Day. Two days later Ida heads east. South of Texarkana the Interstate is covered with shredded leaves, except for the tire tracks, then covered with hail. The median is filled with golf-ball hail, steaming. Breakfast at Lea's in LeCompte, LA, is ham biscuit and peach pie (with pecan pie to go)!

Then on to Eunice to hear Cajun music. Ida stops at all 3 museums, including the Cajun Music Hall of Fame, then the National Park Service's Jean LaFitte Cultural Center, where Ranger Caroline explains the crawfish lifecycle. Dinner is "Crawfish A-2-fay" as the menu states. Next morning Ida is at Fred's Lounge in Mamau for music and sausage. Back in Eunice, Ida recognizes people from Fred's and the jam session. Ida learns about Bubba’s business making 250-300 pounds of sausage daily. He says the crawfish buyers have stopped coming 'round, that the mudbug shells are hardening and their season is about over. He then tells about the problems he had shipping gator tail, wild turkey, guinea hen and a wild pig to the Smithsonian the year he did cooking demos during the Folk Festival on the Mall. I tell him I danced there to the Cajun bands! Today he will play fiddle (by ear), with Caroline on guitar, and men play button box and triangle. The lyrics are French. Then Bubba demonstrates preparing cracklin’s and passes samples. Delicious!

Every Saturday night at the Liberty Theater in Eunice there is a radio/TV broadcast by a Cajun band. Soon the steel guitarist brings his father to the seat beside me. He performed many times on this stage, and tonight the band plays at least 5 of his compositions.

Next morning Ida drives to Lafayette for one last delicious meal, and music during lunch. Now it is time to go home. Ida drives the Gulf Coast highway through Biloxi, where she worked to rehab houses after Katrina. The area looks far more prosperous today. The next day is beautiful, but after lunch the storm gathers, Ida wonders if there is a tornado in that pitch black cloud. The sun reappears as she drives into Sarasota, 5,789 miles and 3 weeks after leaving.

The retirees in southwestern Illinois gathered for lunch and reminiscing on July 10th in Litchfield. Attending were Mary Hess, Mook and Helen Allen, Don and Martha Long, John Burns, Lee Bridgman, David and Maribeth Rahe, and John and Patty Paden. Lots of stories and tales of past work experiences were told and everyone updated the group on their activities and family.

I had a nice visit with Bill Hartman recently. He is busy raising cattle and corn on his farm in Pike County.

Neil Bogner called recently while traveling through Champaign. I don't know if Neil, as an engineer, was examining the concrete on one of our streets from a close distance or just wanted new glasses or was not used to walking on level land, but he said he had a ride in one of our fine ambulances to one of our fine hospitals in Champaign. Neil, I am glad there were no broken bones!

I am sorry to report the death of Bill Pohl on June 29th. Bill retired as District Conservationist in Benton in 1986. His wife preceded him in death a year ago. We offer our sympathy to his two daughters, son, and grandchildren.

A reminder of the retiree gathering in Champaign at Ryan's Family Steakhouse on Oct 3rd. Doors open at 11:00 am. Hope you can join us for lunch and visiting

We have scheduled two meetings for retirees this fall. Jane Hardesty, STC has graciously agreed to meet with Indiana's NRCS/SCS retirees in two locations this year. We will meet on Thursday, August 29, 2013 at the Gasthof Amish Restaurant in Montgomery, IN (Daviess County). We will plan to eat around 11:30 am (Indy time). We will then have a short program with remarks from our State Conservationist. Earl Terpstra has offered to show some of his antique tractors at his farm following the program. We will also meet Friday, August 30, 2013 at the Jonathan Byrd Cafeteria in Greenwood. We will eat at 11:30 am (Indy time) followed by a short program with remarks from Jane Hardesty. Jane spent several months in the National Office in an acting position. I am sure she can give us the most current "scoop" on current events

IOWA

Maralee J. Sarasio, ARCSE Representative

As I was thinking about Iowa news, it was announced temperatures will reach 96 on Monday, August 26, 99 on Tuesday and 98 Wednesday. Some parts of the state are to exceed 100, with heat indexes from 110 – 112, running into next week. Thank goodness for AC and some wind, even if by the end of the day that is hot, also. Good Old Iowa! We didn’t think spring would ever come as April was cool and wet. May 2"nd rain turned to snow with more rain causing The Tulip Festival at Mary Jane Bryant was born and raised in Indianola, in their wedding attire and also wearing outdoor jackets and hats. Congratulations! May 26th was the day.

Iowa has lost three of our Senior Conservationists, Howard Hughes and Lorne Nestrud. While not on the Senior Conservationist list, Elinor Canwright Diehl also was in the category.

Howard M. Hughes passed away July 10, 2013 at Scottish Rite Park, where he resided, two days prior to his 97th birthday. Howard came to Iowa as an Assistant State Conservationist in 1965. Prior to coming to Iowa, he worked in Kansas where he was born and raised. Howard retired in January 1977 and was instrumental in organizing the weekly breakfasts. His wife, Shirley, preceded him in death a few years ago.

Lorne Nestrud worked as a Soil Scientist at Newton prior to being in the state office. He passed away at Papillion, NE on July 21, 2013. Prior to coming to Iowa in 1967, Lorne worked in South Dakota. He retired with 36 years of service, which would have been around 1982. His wife, Marjorie, preceded him in death.

Elinor Canwright Diehl, Des Moines, was a secretary for the Planning Staff, retiring in 1982 with 22 years of service. She passed away on March 26, 2013.

For those of you who may remember Robert Lee Warren, I received a notice from the Ohio State Office. He lived in McConneville, OH, and passed away on July 10 2013 at the age 102.

Roger and Donita Link visited their daughter and family in Bryant, AR early in August. Roger said Arkansas was green compared to their visit at Christmas when there was 7 – 9 inches of snow on the ground Christmas Day. Recently they were in Elkader. While there they visited with Ron Kuehl and his wife Mary, who have retired and moved back to Elkader, which is Ron’s hometown. Ron was a Soil Scientist in Northeast Iowa prior to serving as Assistant State Soil Scientist and then State Soil Scientist in Des Moines. He left Iowa SCS in 1990 and moved to Florida where he worked as a Soil Consultant and established his own consulting business. Ron and Mary established and now operate the Treats on Bridge Street Bistro near main street Elkader. Lunch, gourmet coffees, ice cream, and more are featured. Stop in and say hi if you’re in the area.

Rosie and Bob Gaudette reported having a good winter in Myrtle Beach. Plans are to continue going as long as they can.

Deane Glenn and Margaret Hemphill are still volunteering at information booths at the State Fair. It’s a great place to interact with people.

Last Wednesday, August 21st, Bob Mettetal of Leeds, AL paid a surprise visit at breakfast. Bob retired from the Design Section some years ago and then he and Nancy moved to Alabama where their daughter, Jodie lived. They were back here for a few days and it was good to see them. Bob, Dennis Peterson and I are the ones of the breakfast bunch who were SCSers from beginning to end. I was there for a while, stayed home for 14 years and then came back. Bob retired about 1990, Dennis in 1994, and myself in 1995.

I haven’t heard for sure, but I suspect Duane Miller probably drove the banana mobile along the Register’s Annual Great Bicycle Ride Across Iowa (RAGBRAI) route in July. It passed through the central part of the state this year, including Des Moines. Duane is part of a group that hands out bananas and water to the riders.

Jack and I participated in the 57th Annual Midwest Tour (antique car tour) held in Clarion, Iowa. We had people from ND, NE, MN and IA. The tour was from June 16 – 20. On Monday the group drove to Fort Dodge, touring the reconstructed fort. After lunch we went to the Born Free Motorhome Factory in Humboldt. They showed us how they make the fiberglass body molds, build the frames and assemble the motorhomes. Tuesday we went to Mason City via Clear Lake. Our first stop was at a private collection of gas and oil memorabilia and some very old unusual trucks. The gas and oil collections were set up by companies; i.e., Texaco, Standard, Gulf. Absolutely outstanding! After lunch we went to downtown Mason City to the Music Man Square Area. Meredith Wilson of the Music Man movie was from Mason City. We toured his home and then the Square which is a creation of scenes from the movie. At the art museum nearby is a large collection of puppets from the “Sound of Music.” The puppeteer was from Mason City. Wednesday we went to West Bend to the Grotto of Redemption, the largest Grotto in the world, an impressive creation. Father Dobberstein began its construction in 1912, laboring winter and summer for 42 years until his death in 1954. Others completed the Grotto which is a composite of nine separate Grottos, each portraying a scene in the Life of Christ. It was built by setting ornamental rocks and gems in concrete. The Grotto is listed on the National Register of Historic places. From West Bend we went to Algona to the Camp Algona POW Museum. During WWII, Algona was the site of a main camp for 10,000 German Prisoners from April 1944 to February 1946. The Museum features artifacts and information relating to the American military personnel and German prisoners brought together by the war. During the encampment, the prisoners carved a Nativity Scene to a scale of half-size using concrete on frames of wood and wire with a top coat of plaster that allowed detailed carving. There are sixty figures. It is beautiful. From there we traveled to Britt to the Hobo Museum. Artifacts there are from Hobos and their families. Every year there is a big Hobo convention in the town, and Hobos come from everywhere. There is even a Hobo cemetery in town. Thursday we stayed in the Clarion area. The Heartland Museum has a large collection of farm machinery and farm toys. There was a lady from Clarion who used to give talks and tell stories about her hat collection. One area is devoted to her. There is a big teddy bear collection also. Another fact about Clarion, it is the home of the 4-H symbol. In the afternoon we went to Williams to an antique car collection. That evening was our banquet and the end of another great Midwest Tour.

KANSAS

Deanne Lull, ARCSE Representative
Email: rlull2@cox.net

After being so dry the last couple of years, KS is now getting too much of a good thing. In the first nine days of August, the state climatologist reported that across the state 144 daily precipitation records were broken. There is a lot of flooding occurring and, as our paper printed, “The ground is so saturated right now you can pour out a thimble and cause a flood.” KS is experiencing an unusually wet and cool summer; however, this weather makes it crazy with mosquitoes.

The Annual Meeting of the KS SCS/NRCS Retirees Association was held June 28, 2013, at Martinelli’s Little Italy in Salina, KS. We gathered mid-afternoon to visit and reminiscence. Attending were, Nova Atwood, Don Cooper, Arlie and Dorothy Cox, Duane Evans, Bob and Dorothy Gerdes, Jean Hamilton, Robert Higgins, George and Charlene Jorgensen, Gerald and Charlene Karnes, Gary and Annette Kelley, Jim and Peggy Krueger, Deanne and Ron Lull, John and Linda Ourada, Loren and Darlene Pearson, Bernie Owen, John Reh, Bill and De Roth, Eldon and Betty Schwant, Baron Shively, Bobby and Glennis Trecek, and Lawrence and Phyllis Wetter. Malcom Strom had made reservations to attend; however, he totaled his vehicle the evening before in the aftermath of a storm. He escaped injury.

Retiree Jim Krueger took time out from the wheat harvest to present the program. He compared working in the field office today with all of its technology, to the work unit office of yesteryear. He also briefly summarized the current farm programs. A memorial service was held for those deceased during the past year. Deanne Lull highlighted becoming an ARSCE senior conservationist and requested that she be notified of any retiree’s death. Before adjourning, there was a short business meeting.

Ruby McBee, widow of Charles McBee, has received confirmation that after 60 years, her daughter’s grave in Afghanistan has not been disturbed by the war in that country. She had to leave her daughter’s grave behind when she and her husband left that country in 1955. Their 10-year old daughter, Marilyn, had died abruptly in 1954 from polio that attacked the base of the brain. She was buried at Menzel Bagh, as the couple was unable to leave the country with her remains. For nearly six decades Ruby has wondered if the grave was still there. “Hearing that it is still there felt good,” she said.

Ermal and Anita Nelson of Lindsborg, KS, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on June 24, 2013. They have one son, two daughters, and five grandchildren. Ermal farmed in the Falun and Lindsborg areas most of his life. Anita was employed by the Corps of Engineers, McGuire AFB in New Jersey, Smoky Hill AFB in Salina and ended her career with the Soil Conservation Service in the KS State Office.

KENTUCKY

Billye M. Haslett, ARCSE Representative

Billye Haslett and Connie McKinney visited Ray Barker, retired SCT on 8-15-13, to see his rose garden. The photo of Ray and Connie was taken in the rose garden Ray planted and has tended for over 30 years. Ray lives on his family's farm in Elliott County, near Olive Hill, KY where he was born. He built his home in 1938 and has lived there ever since. He and his wife raised 7 children. Mrs. Barker passed away in 2005. Ray freely shares his roses with family and friends. Ray treated Billye and Connie to lunch at a local restaurant that Ray describes as the perfect place to loaf. The waitress and cashier both gave Ray a hug! Ray then provided his guests with a tour of beautiful Elliott County. It was a great day to spend in Kentucky. Ray worked in the Sandy Hook, KY field office in Elliott County, retiring in 1994. Ray is 82 years young.
Dwain Abell, retired CET, is hoping to attend the next annual meeting. He is normally in Key West, FL, from early November to mid-March staying in a travel trailer on the Navy base.

Ray Barker, retired SCT, is doing great after two hip operations, heart surgery last year and two cancer operations. He just bought a new blue GMC 4WD pickup truck. Ray has been growing roses for over 30 years. He lives on a farm in Elliott County, near Olive Hill, KY.

Wilson Boggs, retired SCT, is a Jackson County Conservation District Supervisor and now is 87 years young. John Brown Jr., retired DC, spends winters in FL.

Bill Casey, retired State Biologist, is doing well and would come to meetings if he had transportation.

Steve Christensen: It has been 18 years since I retired from SCS. Time really does fly. I was the Assistant SAO for part of my time in Lexington and then was asked to head up Information Resource Management (IRM). I left in 1995 on a buyout. I started a career selling and buying real estate. I started my own firm in 2011, named Calumet Realty. We now have 18 rental properties of our own and manage 10 properties for others. Our web site is www.CalumetRealty.net if you want to check it out.

Andrea Cora retired from Budget and Finance, SO, in 1997. Andrea is doing well and would love to tell you about her grandchildren.

Jeff Craggs, retired engineer, spends his retirement time hunting, fishing and sleeping.

Lawrence Eastham, retired SCT, winters in Florida, is active with the Nelson County Conservation District and is a current board member. He enjoys getting emails, newsletters and updates.

Harry Evans, retired Soil Scientist: I’m enjoying retirement greatly, although I’m busier than I thought I would be. I do a lot of work with the Pulaski County Humane Society, working at the Spay and Neuter clinics, Adoption Days, transporting dogs and other assorted jobs. I just completed training to volunteer with Lake Cumberland Hospice in their Pet Peace of Mind Program. Also, I am an occasional Earth Team Volunteer. There seems to be plenty of work around as long as you don’t expect to get paid for it.

James (Booster) Flowers, retired SCT, is 97 years old and is living in Bowling Green, KY, according to Tom Marcum, retired SRC. Tom says he learned a lot about surveying and design from Booster.
Ron Froedge, retired DC: During the past year I completed a 30-foot by 40-foot workshop and storage building—now I can finally park our vehicles in our garage. Since I retired, I have built 4 cedar chests: one for each of our kids and one for a friend’s son and daughter-in-law. My next building project will be a solid oak dining table that will seat 8. I will use 11-inch wide oak boards, but they need about 6 months of additional curing before I start the project. In my spare time, I enjoy launching my boat and fishing on Kentucky Lake, which is only 14 miles from our home. My wife Carol and I have also had the opportunity to spend more time with our grandchildren since we retired. After taking care of two of our grandchildren for the past two weeks, and keeping them entertained, we both need additional rest! So far retirement has been good!

Bea Hamilton, former area clerk, is 96 years old. She had a conversation with Tom Marcum, retired SRC. Tom says he hopes his memory is a good as Bea’s when he’s 96.

Billy Hartsell, State Engineer, retired January 3, 2013. A retirement celebration was held at the Lexington Green in early February 2013. Billy was joined by family, friends and co-workers. David Neely, former KY Engineer, now working in Florida, joined the festivities. Everyone in attendance had a great time. Billy and Barbara even sang a song at the end of the program. Several retirees were in attendance: Beecher Hines, Cassie Pyle, Connie McKinney, Billye Haslett, and David Stipes.

Billye Haslett, retired SAO: My husband Carl and I traveled to Catalina Island, CA, to celebrate Carl’s daughter Lisa’s birthday. Lisa and her husband Tom, live in Orange, CA, Catalina is the only inhabited island off the coast of California. It’s a unique environment, complete with several hundred buffalo, which got their start from a movie filmed there in the 50s. The island was owned by the Wrigleys, as in Wrigley chewing gum. When the movie was over, the Wrigleys agreed to keep the buffalo. Now extensive management is done to maintain the herd at around 300. The family set aside most of the island under the management of a conservancy group, which has maintained its unique landscape, flora and fauna. We toured the island in a Humvee.

Rodney Hendrickson, retired RC&D Coordinator: I didn’t do very well staying retired. I accepted the position of Executive Director of the London-Laurel County Tourist Commission on my second day of retirement. When not at work I can usually be found on long-distance bicycle rides with his wife Alice. We traveled by bicycle across the state of New York (500 miles) in late July of this year.

Rodney Heilman, retired RC, moved to Louisville in June to be closer to his daughter. They are enjoying their new patio home and trying to adjust. His health is good and life is good.

Gerald Hart, retired Area Conservationist, had a 38-year career with SCS, and is 78 years young. Gerald is growing vegetables on 20 acres of land and managing 12 greenhouses to produce and market vegetables on his 135-acre farm. He has four heated greenhouses plus eight high tunnel greenhouses, which are unheated but help to extend his growing season in the spring a fall. The Hart vegetables are marketed in a roadside stand adjacent to the farm.

Don Henry, retired Plant Material Specialist: I attended school from 1935-1940 at Benham, KY in Harlan County. The school was built in the late 1920s and is still in good shape. The school was made into a bed and breakfast, The Benjamin School House Inn, some few years ago. ‘I’ve stayed there several times since the school was converted to a Bed and Breakfast. If you want a place to stay that’s quiet and peaceful, I suggest you try this place.

Earl Johnson, Retired DC: I retired June 3, 2013, exactly 34 years on my original hire date. I have two daughters. One will be a senior in college, studying foreign language and international studies. The younger will be a freshman in college and his wife Susan, a few nights on the front end and back end of the trip. We ate seafood every day except for breakfast. We enjoyed fresh strawberries for breakfast. It was an enjoyable week. The highlight of my year was the birth of our first grandson February 22, 2013. He’s definitely a Marcum (a cutie) and we are very proud of him. I have plenty of pictures of him! Our problem is they live 30 miles south of Nashville and we don’t get to see him as often as we would like.

Connie McKinney, retired Contracting Officer: I’ve been in travel mode this summer. In addition to my weekly visits to my mother in Falmouth, KY, in July I traveled to San Francisco for a few days with a friend, to the beach in Topsail Island, NC, with family and to Madison, IN, for a girlfriend weekend. When I am not traveling I work in my flower garden, work in the... church office and act as a volunteer coordinator for the nursery there. I have had to curtail my Zumba activities because of a slipped disk but hope to return to it soon.

John Newton, retired Assistant State Soil Scientist, is doing well and would like to attend annual meetings if he had transportation.

Hershel Reed, DC, retired from SCS service in 1985. Hershel is 86 years young. He says he’s in general good health but doesn’t do much distant driving.

Gary Smith, retired CET has settled in Arkansas near his son.

Roy Toney, retired DC and President of the SCS/NRCS Retiree association, is coordinating our KY annual meeting 7-8 October at the Barren River State Park, located near Glasgow, KY. The SCS/NRCS retirees staying overnight on the 7th will attend a hot dog roast and enjoy fellowship at a park shelter the evening before the meeting. The meeting will be held in the lodge on the 8th.

Charles Turner: I retired from NRCS in May 2011 with 40.3 years of service. I was the RC&D Coordinator for the nine-county Pennyrile Area in Hopkinsville, KY from 1983 to 2011. Now I volunteer for the Pennyrile RC&D Council in carrying out various projects and events including: constructing walking trails throughout the area; Naturefest in Hopkinsville, where over 1300 people participate; take kids fishing at Cadiz, Dawson, Greenville, and Hopkinsville with over 1500 kids participating and a similar number of adults; and Christmas at the Bend, etc. I am also serving on various boards and committees including the Hopkinsville Water Environment Authority, Superintendent Advisory Council, Christian County Board of Health, Jeffers Bend Steering Committee, Caldwell County/Dawson Springs Planning Committee, Hopkinsville Residential Enterprise Zone Committee, and the Salvation Army Advisory Board.

In Memory: Carl Hail retired Soil Scientist, passed away June 4, 2013. Carl is survived by his wife Catherine. Harold Jolly, retired economist was living in Byrdtown, TN. Harold passed away December 2, 2011, according to his wife. Sam Vanover, retired DC, passed away January 16, 2013.

MASSACHUSETTS

Jim Wesolowski, ARCSE Representative

Not much excitement to report on from the conservation retiree community in Massachusetts. It’s less than a week ‘til the Three County Fair in Northampton over the Labor Day weekend. Then it’s time for the Big E. with NRCS employees staffing the USDA booth and feasting on baked potatoes, fried butter, and who knows what else. We’re losing nearly three minutes of daylight every day, so the eight-month long winter can’t be far off.

July was a traumatic month for me when I hit 70. Seventy has always seemed old to me. But 70 isn’t really old is it? Yeah, it is. I’m officially old. Next comes elderly, if I’m lucky.

A small group of NRCS retirees gathered in June at the Route 9 Diner in Hadley to talk about the old days and give thanks for that federal direct deposit that still happens just like clockwork. I seem to remember the participants as John Kick (ASTC), Mark Zinan (SAO), Dennis Verdi (CE), Claudette Placzek (Budget), Steve Fischer (SS) and Dave Nelson (ASCE) and me. Rumor had it that Rudy Chlanda (Geologist) is gainfully employed in the garden shop at the Home Depot in Greenfield.

Oh, yeah, retiree news! Len Reno, District Conservationist in West Wareham, decided to close out his career on August 2nd. Len was recruited out of Vermont by Dick Gallo, another Vermont transplant to Mass. Len was a true expert in conservation for cranberry bogs and participated in an official trip to the Ukraine to offer advice to farmers there. I remember his stories of the large quantities of vodka that were consumed during his visit.

Massachusetts voters approved medical-marihuana dispensaries, and hundreds of applicants have filed for the limited number of slots in each county. They’re also accepting applications from growers, and Deerfield is the local hot spot. The Selectmen have come out in favor of pot replacing pickles as a major crop. Not sure if NRCS will help farmers develop conservation plans but who knows? The only downside I can see is that growing, selling, and even possessing pot still seems to be a federal offense.
Speaking of slots, the state will be granting three casino licenses in Mass with one slated for western Mass. So far MGM has plans for the south end of Springfield, Hard Rock at the Big E in West Springfield, and Mohegan Sun near the Turnpike exit in Palmer. What this has to do with conservation retirees I don’t know, but it will shorten that 80-minute bus ride to get my fix of gambling.

MINNESOTA

Marlene Mechelke, ARCSE Representative

Some Minnesota Metro retirees met for lunch on Wednesday, July 10th at Pippins in Roseville: Dave and Kay Breitbach, John Handler, Bud Finney, Al Giencke, Margy and Micki Gangl and Marlene Mechelke. Not a big bunch, but lots of big discussions.

After 37+ years of SCS/NRCS service, Glen Kajewski decided to hang up his conservation boots. He has some great memories: “I started in Crookston as a GS-7 Soil Conservationist–10/12/1975, starting salary $11,046 a year. I came in after a ‘great one’ had completed his training—Al Gustafson. Rented a spot in Doug Christianson’s trailer for a few months before he got smart and kicked my butt out. Worked with some great counterparts through the years and great FO and SO folks and have been truly blessed and enjoyed my job and career immensely!”

I (Marlene) was fortunate one time to meet and hear Hugh Bennett speak at an SCS conference in St. Cloud. Bennett was the erosion control crusader during the dust bowl days who talked President Franklin Roosevelt and Congress into starting the U.S. Soil Erosion Service. Controlling wind and water erosion is an ongoing project. Water still runs downhill.

We stayed at an excellent bed and breakfast place at Reed’s Landing near Wabasha on our way home. Across Lake Pepin from this place a huge dredging project was going on. Our host said the Chippewa River comes into the Mississippi River at that spot and dumps soil and sand into the river. It has to be dredged out every year to maintain the channel for shipping. That sounds like another critical upstream problem that should be taken care of. We headed for home on Highway 60 between Wabasha and Faribault. If you want to see some excellent water erosion controlled dairy farms using terrace and contour strips, take a drive along that road someday.

Russ Jongewaard, Little Falls, MN, had an interesting trip in July through SE Minnesota, including stops in Coon Valley, Wisconsin near LaCrosse. My wife, Kathryn, comes from St. Charles, so our first objective was to visit 4 of her cousins in that area. One of her uncles, Charley Taylor, was a farmer deeply involved with soil and water conservation in the early years in the White River Watershed. My first training with SCS was in the fall of 1947 at the LaCrosse Ag. Experiment Station. I had never been in the Coon Valley Watershed project so was interested in seeing the area. This was the first watershed demonstration project in the USA.

My first State Conservationist was Herb Flueck who was the farm planner at Coon Valley. Others that I know and worked with who were also in on Coon Valley were Bill Sillman, Grant Karlstad and Mel Cohee. Al Laidlaw was the forester for the project. The Coon Creek or Coon Valley Watershed was started in 1933. The CCC camps were also started then and provided labor for Coon Creek. I signed up for the CCCs in June, 1936, and our outfit shipped from Fort Snelling to Moran State Park on Orcas Island in Puget Sound, 20 miles out of Bellingham, Washington. I worked on a survey party, which later came in handy with 4 years with the 4th Battalion SeaBees in the Pacific theater and also later with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Back to Coon Valley: We had a self-guided tour we got off the internet, but we couldn’t find the starting point, so we roamed around, criss-crossed the area and saw some original contour strips, which seemed rather narrow and on pretty steep slopes. The higher slopes and ridges are now heavily wooded.

Charlene Harms, retired Area Clerk/Administrative Assistant, Duluth, MN and hubby, Rich, have purchased a new Lance travel trailer and are hitting the road, headed to the Canadian Atlantic Provinces (Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, Labrador) for however long they want to be gone. Isn’t it wonderful to be retired and free! Accompanying them will be their new English Pointer. She’s high strung and drives Char nuts! (Rich will have to be in charge of her). In October they will be taking a river cruise from Vienna, Austria to Amsterdam for 13 days—the Danube, Rhine and Main Rivers—right through the heart of Germany. Accommodations will be quite luxurious on the River Duchess with a French balcony, so if Rich doesn’t want to walk that day, he can stay on board and watch the local folks doing their thing. We’ll be excited to hear the details of that trip when they get back.
MISSOURI

Dave Rastorfer, ARCSE Representative
Email: daverastorfer@aol.com

The Columbia area retirees had their quarterly breakfast at the Country Kitchen in Columbia on August 14th. Those attending were: Neil and Louise Randall, Virgil and Joy Gardner, Ed and Judy Smith, Jerry McElhiney, Frank Miller, Cordes Potter, Richard and Marjorie Koenig, John and Carol McCarthy, John Turner, Mike Wells, Bill Pauls and Dave Rastorfer. The next quarterly breakfast will be on November 13, 2013.

Ross Braun: Motivated by an opportunity to return to work done in my early SCS career, I made a two-week trip to Yantalo, Peru. Farmers in the Yantalo community would like help to increase production and address natural resource concerns. Through the Yantalo Foundation, www.yantalo.org, I visited with farmers raising coffee, cacao, rice, bamboo, oranges, manioc yucca, and plantain. Yantalo is in a cloud forest about 3,000 feet above the Amazon basin. I am putting together a team to help the Yantalo farmers. If you, or someone you know, is conversant in Spanish and has expertise in soil fertility, pest management, soil erosion, or water quality, please contact me, rbbraun48@yahoo.com. I also met with folks at the Yantalo Clinic to talk about Personal Energy Transportation (PET) for people with ambulatory disabilities. Several NRCS retirees work with PET and provided information that I presented to medical staff. Check out http://petinternational.org/. In an effort to do a better job as a volunteer teacher-naturalist at a nature reserve, I completed the Certified Interpretive Guide course conducted by the Missouri Dept. of Conservation for the National Interpreters Association, http://www.interpret.com/. This course could be useful for anyone working to educate people about natural resources and motivate them to action. That’s it for now. Going to take Junior Science Academy students on a night hike and then watch the Perseid meteor shower. For those who know me, my mules Jake and Scooter are doing fine and enjoying semi-retirement while I spend time on other interests.

Peggy Fricke: After a relatively quiet winter and spring it has been a summer filled with grandkids: ball games, swim lessons, church camps, water parks/pools, scavenger hunts and more. We’ve visited historical sites, wandered around antique/junk shops and other various adventures. And, of course the State Fair. There were quieter times swinging in the back yard, watching movies and eating popcorn and fudge bars. In between, we managed some gatherings with various relatives and friends and attended my 44th High School Class Reunion, the first one of my reunions I’d been to. Amazing how much we all changed but how great to see everyone! Now if the rain and the Gasconade will cooperate we’ll end our summer with our annual family float. Rains put almost five feet of water from the Gasconade in my daughter/son-in-laws basement and covered the corn between the house and river. Had to canoe from the house to their vehicles parked on the higher end of the lane. Still cleaning up that mess but blessed that it wasn’t any worse and everyone is OK. Wish everyone a great fall and mild winter.

Lane Thurman: We haven’t had a recent meeting of our Springfield group of retirees since last month, so no news from that group for now. But Nancy and I will be leaving on a long RV trip on Aug. 25th and will be gone for about three weeks or so. We are heading up into South Dakota to the Black Hills, Custer State Park and the surrounding area, then into Sheridan, Wyoming to follow the battles of Custer and his last stand at the Little Big Horn battlefield. Then on into Yellowstone for a few days to see the sights there. Wish you were going to be along to help pay for the fuel we are going to use. This trip wouldn’t be so bad except for paying for the diesel we will burn. You can’t take it with you though, so have fun spending it while you are here, and that is what we are doing.

Jimbo Sturm: Well, Jimbo has had to mow lawns dang near in the dark, to find a little coolness these days. Good thing, he has 2 fans mounted on his Johnny Deer, one behind and in front of the operator’ seat. Otherwise, he has been busy helping his favorite carpenters with metal roof replacement construction. His job has been about 2 things to do: sit under the shade tree and keep quiet or go fetch more materials for the job. Hopefully, the next 2 jobs won’t require much in the fetching department as the last job (420 miles). He can’t wait till the fall frost comes as the ragweed is bothering a bit these summer days. He tried his luck at some fishing the other day, but didn’t catch nothin’.

Dennis Shirk: As most of you already know, the Gasconade and Maries rivers had a repeat of the “93” flood with the same devastating results. Much loss of income, much extra work clearing debris, repairing fence, finding cattle, etc. We spent two weeks camping in Boone County at our daughter's place taking care of the animals. They enjoyed a brief vacation and a week at church camp. I got the chore of butchering chickens. I hadn’t done that in about 50 years. I quickly learned the process hadn’t changed much. We will be doing some camping in Sept. and Oct. You all have a good safe journey and I’ll see you down the trail.

Mike Blaine: The highlight of the summer for the Blaines has been our annual South Carolina trip where we gather all our kids and grandkids for a week on the beach. We went to Harbor Island this year. It is far less commercialized than Hilton Head and includes a state park that takes up much of the island. We had a great week with family. The time passed much too quickly. Coming events include an August church trip to see the Creation Science Museum in KY. The summer is going by all too fast. I have accomplished little on the farm this summer. I guess it will be there when I get to it! Best wishes to all.
Rob Cheshier: Everything is pretty good at the Cheshier house. On August 16th we will celebrate our 38th anniversary. My, how time flies! Don't know how Debra has put up with me all those years, but I guess we are doing something right. Debra is still working for the Audrain County prosecuting attorney's office as a crime victim advocate. She is not quite ready to retire yet. I am still retired and plan to stay that way. As our anniversary gift, Debra and I will be leaving the end of August on a road trip to VA. Neither of us has been there. We will drive to Fancy Gap, VA, take the Blue Ridge Parkway northward to the Shenandoah Valley and then on north to Front Royal, VA. Then we will head into WV. We plan to visit Blacksburg, Roanoke, Lynchburg, Appomattox, Lexington, Charlottesville, the Luray Caverns (largest in the eastern U.S.), Harper's Ferry, and then head home. Lots to see so we should keep busy. I have been to 37 states in my 66+ years and will add VA, WV, MD, and PA on this trip. As a geologist I am very excited about this adventure as the Appalachian Range contains some of the oldest rock formations in the nation, and many folks have told me it is a beautiful and very scenic drive.

Forrest Tindall: Well it's been a busy year. Son Bruce decided to help an old school friend by buying wrecked motorcycles for him to repair and they would split the profit. First step was to convert the paint booth in my barn to a shop. Then the friend just disappeared so we ended up with 5 motorcycles to fix and Bruce was due to return to Iraq. We fixed 2 and I hauled 3 to my brother in N.M. to fix while I went on to CA to race my vintage race car. I ran 2 events then flew home to try and keep grass and weeds from taking over the place. Flew back to CA in June, ran 2 more events and then back home picking up 2 repaired bikes on the way. I bought a big ZTR mower and boy is it fast. I think I may just win the war on weeds!

Jay Lingwall: Leigh and I just returned from a five-week 7,600 mile trip to ID, MT, UT, and CO. We drove many Jeep trails (some we should not have), visited historic sites and small towns, hiked up to high lakes for fishing, and for a week traveled with five other Jeepers. Those high altitudes take some adjusting to, and 12,000-ft.+ Jeep trails can be somewhat daunting. We had some great camping locations and met several interesting travelers. The Rubicon Jeep Wrangler still has more capability than we have "pucker," but we are closing the gap considerably. I still have not found the person responsible for mowing the yard while we were gone but what a relief that was. Now that we are home, getting back into running shape is on the list. Leigh is working on doing 10Ks now and she is dragging me along.

News from ex Missouri retirees: (From TX) Jim Rickman: We have been traveling a lot. Since Russia we went to Ecuador and Galapagos Islands, China, and just got back from Europe on vacation with the grand kids. We are going to Burma in Nov. and next year on a safari in Africa. My grandson and I continue to go to the farm and battle Mesquite with a bulldozer. We get to our cabin in north Arkansas about once a month and caught some nice trout last trip. I would really like to attend the annual Missouri luncheon to see old friends, but we will be in New Mexico--maybe next year. I love retirement!

(From Oklahoma) Jess Epple: What a contrast our summer has been compared to 2011 and 2012! We have had only 2 days that reached 100 degrees and our rains have come perfect. We finished our spring haying in early July with more hay than I expected. It's amazing to see what a few well-placed rains will do for Bermuda grass! My Father was a historian and published several books about Civil War Battles fought in Indian Territory (present day Oklahoma). The “Battle of Honey Springs” located just west of our ranch was the largest battle, and this year on July 17th it celebrated its 150-year anniversary. The Friends of Honey Springs are expecting it to achieve National Park Service status within the near future. We have already received National Historic Landmark distinction. I encourage any of you retirees traveling through this part of Oklahoma to visit the Battlefield site located north of Checotah on US 69 Hwy. You could also come by, and we will show you our grazing set-up, all done according to NRCS specs, of course!

Montana Big Sky Report

Jim Johnson's Report: Joan and I were at the August Breakfast. There were 14 in attendance. That's a real good turnout for this time of year. Most Montana NRCS retirees are out picking berries or catching fish for winter.

Scott and Nancy Hoag Report: Scott and Nancy spent the summer in Bozeman, where they hosted 20 Habitat for Humanity RV Care-a-Vanners on behalf of Gallatin HfH. The group was instrumental in completing a totally passive solar HfH house in Belgrade. The new family moved in June. Meanwhile, there were visits from our daughter and youngest granddaughter, along with our granddaughter's best friend. In 3 days they'd anticipated seeing all of Montana, but the "tour guides" were only able to show them Bozeman and Virginia City and some antelope, etc. Now Scott and Nancy are making plans and loading up their RV again in order to go back on the road to build with HfH in Las Cruces. Then it's on to Yuma to spend part of the winter catching up with both Stateside and Canadian friends before heading back to Las Cruces for more building and to Jackson Hole for some of the same.

Gooby Ranch Report: A few days ago we had a vicious wind storm that came through our area. It was very spotty and just missed us, but it really got a neighbor a little ways down the road. The wind blew so hard it blew two quarter mile long irrigation wheel lines over the fence and across the county road. He had just cut his hay and the hay blew off the field and into the road right-away. What a mess! There is so much hay on the road it had the traffic blocked off.
The wind hit town and blew the roof off buildings and hundreds of trees blew over. In order to do our part to volunteer with the clean-up, I laid out a plan on how we could be the best help. I talked to the farmer whose hay blew into the road. Since he doesn’t have any cattle around here until winter, I suggested we save him a lot of work and expense by grazing our cows on the road to clean up the mess and we would charge him. Mary Ann herds the cows down every day and lets them graze to clean up the hay. While the cows are grazing, she heads to town and cut a Stock trailer load of fire wood to help with the clean-up in town. If she can get three or four more loads we won’t have to cut any wood this fall when we go hunting. That will be a big help. Instead of Mary Ann having to cut wood, she will be able to carry my gun and backpack while we are hunting. That way I have can total focus on sneaking up on an elk. Plus I can put in a little for food and water in the pack since I don’t have to worry about the extra weight.

The cows grazing on the road are really saving on our pastures and lawn. The farmer that lost the hay is not too happy. But he will be happy that we are willing to sell him enough hay to make up for the hay he lost on the road and that we are not charging him the extra work Mary Ann is putting in taking the cows down to graze on the road hay every day.

If you do prior proper planning like NRCS taught us in Management Level 2, it becomes a win-win for all the parties. I’m planning on selling the hay to him before Christmas, then I can allocate a little of the money we get for the hay to Mary Ann so she can buy me a Christmas present.

The July meeting was called to order with 20 people in attendance. Donna Dornbusch, Clinton Johnson and Pete Jensen’s wife Doris all are celebrating birthdays this month.

Norm and Linda Helzer went to Vancouver to the International Kiwanis meeting and managed to do the usual Vancouver sightseeing while there. Bill and Colleen Hance traveled to Florence, AL for a prison ministry convention. Along the way they made stops in Salem, MO where Bill had worked, Memphis, TN (with a visit to Graceland), and visited Civil War battle sites at Shiloh and Corinth, MS. Clint Johnson, Tom Keep, and Norman Kempf attended the US Senior Golf Tournament in Omaha and were thrilled to see some of the “old-timers” play. JoAnne Thiele was in Boston for the 4th of July. The highlight of the visit was seeing “Old Ironsides” go out for her mandatory annual run of 1 mile out and 1 mile back in order to retain her commission in the U.S. Navy.

Wedding Anniversary Celebration: Steve and Jan continued to celebrate their anniversary, this time with family in Gatlinburg, TN. Steve tried out a zip-line and a race go-cart. Steve thinks maybe he is jinxed for travel since they had a second flat on the RV on the way to Tennessee.

The August Meeting was called to order by Vice President Gus Dornbusch with 22 members present. Norm Kempf, Regional Vice-President for ARCSE, presented the ARCSE President’s Award for Outstanding Community Service to August (Gus) Dornbusch. Gus has been very active in the Team Mates program, Kiwanis, St. Marks Methodist Church and other community activities. Norman also reported that Mike Kuck, State Representative for South Dakota, received the ARCSE President’s 2013 Award for Meritorious Service in promoting retiree activities in SD. Pete Jensen called to our attention that August was the 80th anniversary of the agency, first called the Soil Erosion Service, then Soil Conservation Service and now, the Natural Resources Conservation Service.

Gus and Donna Dornbusch entertained Gus’s 15-year-old grandson last month. Golf was the primary activity while in Lincoln, with Gus coming in 2nd best. While in Des Moines, Donna took the young man, who was born and raised in Kansas City, to the IA State Fair and insisted on viewing all of the livestock. Apparently he was not thrilled with IA’s claim to fame – the hogs!

Lou Buller offered bad news from KS: Bill Patterson has been ill with a combination of kidney stones, blood clots, and some broken bones in his back.

Deaths: Dave Jefferson’s wife Sherry passed away on August 17th after a short battle with cancer. Sherry’s funeral was held on their 50th wedding anniversary. Sue LeGeros, a former employee in the National Soil Survey Laboratory passed away recently.

Dave Camper and friends went on a motorcycle rally through Montana, Yellowstone, the Tetons and other parts of Wyoming—put in over 3,000 miles. Upon his return to Nebraska, he went to Connecticut to visit family. Several family reunions were reported. Jim Harder and family vacationed on the beach near Panama City, and later met other family members in Slidell, LA where the trip highlight was a swamp tour. Steve Scheinost’s family vacationed in Washington. A grizzly bear not 10 yards from the car in Glacial National Park, while serving as a photo op for Steve, caused a rapid exit from the scene by his son-in-law. Steve and Jan Stover had a 100-member family reunion in Independence, KS. The attendance of all at church the following morning caused quite a stir.
Wedding Anniversaries: Forty members of Norm and Sylvia Kempf’s family joined them at a bed and breakfast near Lincoln for 4 days to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. An open house was held at their church on August 21st which included a renewal of their wedding vows.

Gene Hanchett became eligible as a Senior Conservationist May 28, 2013. For those who remember Bob Schnitzer, his wife Agnes passed away. Bob was the former Area Engineering Technician in the Batavia Area Office who was my mentor and training guru. Aggy as we knew her, was born in Montreal, Canada and was 75 years young. Share your condolences at: meyerfuneralhome.com.

Bob Hartrick writes: Been kind of a sad month for my family. My mother, Jennie Hartrick, passed away after a long struggle, but hopefully she is finally at rest. Sue and I traveled to Vermont and New Hampshire and had a great time at Story Land in NH with my grandsons then traveled to Maine in Booth Bay Harbor for some relaxation and lots of Lobsters. Stopped on the way home in York and Kittery and brought back over 50 Lobsters and distributed to family and friends. The garden is doing great, and we have had some yummy fresh tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, peppers plus canning beans, etc. Tried some crock dill pickles that are curing now and hope they come out good. Only been in the pool a couple of times with all the rain and cooler weather but hope the end of August warms up. Getting ready to get the firewood in for winter and of course the upcoming hunting season.

Nancy Lee writes that she and husband, Mel, became grandparents for the first time when Carter Thomas Lee was born to their son, Andy and wife, Mary, on July 24th. Mel had cataract surgery in August and is waiting to do the other eye sometime this fall. Nancy and Mel attended the NY Retirees’ Picnic on July 17th at Whitney Point Park, with those attending including Paul and Rose Dodd, Fred and Mary Gilbert, Steve Machovec, Dave Kitchie, Erwin and Gwen Rice, Tony and Kathleen Esser, Dick and Elaine Crowe.

Al McGuffie writes: Became a first time grandparent Easter Sunday. My daughter had a baby girl. Paige has had some medical issues (Gastroschisis) but is improving all the time. Been out to visit the family in Portland, OR once and will be flying there again in September. Continue to do as much fisheries management (jigging for Lake Trout) as possible on Seneca and Keuka Lakes. I just got back from a week of walleye (75) and pike (21) harvesting in Quebec with retired NRCS employee Doug Gillette.

Erwin Rice writes: The Rices have had no great happenings this year, just ordinary routine activities. We do have four grand kids that are honor students, one in 8th grade, one in HS and two in college. We attended the retirees’ picnic at Whitney Point and really enjoyed it.

Cathy Scully writes: Still enjoying my retirement years and certainly do not miss the daily grind! I started this year off by having two cataract surgeries. Everything went well, and now I only need cheaters when I read up close. I recommend it if you are a candidate! We still live in Pine Bush. Bob still teaches painting, and I love working at the local library just down the street from my home. We are also active in the local arts group. I also belong to the "Happy Bookers," a book club sponsored by the library. The attendees are all women, most of us retirees. My oldest son and wife have been teaching in Cambodia - that may be a trip for me one day. My other son and family are in VT, so lots of trips there. Many of you may remember when I bored you with numerous pictures of my first granddaughter - she is now 18, and will be going to the University of Vermont this fall. The other two grandkids are 9 and soon to be 11. Bob's kids and their families are all in this area, and there is always something going on. Bob and I and some friends went to Ireland again a year or so ago. We also go to the Cape a couple of times a year, if possible, and this fall we are planning a trip to Savannah, GA.

NORTH DAKOTA

The annual reunion of North Dakota retirees is still scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 19 for a noon luncheon at the Bismarck Elks Lodge Room. I had a letter from Marilyn Davis and she noted how Mel enjoyed getting together with friends from former years with SCS at these reunions when they had their summer home in Grand Rapids, ND.

Mel died June 23 and she wanted his friends in ND to know that his ashes will be interred in the ND Veterans Cemetery located south of Mandan on Sept. 6, 2013 at 1:00 PM for a short service followed by coffee at the Staybridge Suites in North Bismarck at 2:00 PM. Marilyn would enjoy visiting with Mel’s SCS friends.

Larry Bushey and family recently made a road trip to CA to visit relatives with Larry’s 16 year-old grandson doing much of the driving. Bob and Jeannie Bird attended a family reunion in Miles City, MT, on the way to Reno, NV, and the SWCS International Conference where Bob received the Fellow Award.
After Reno, we traveled to the Napa Valley, CA, for winery tours and tasting, then the petrified forest and the redwoods along the coastal Highway 1. We skirted a forest fire near Grants Pass, OR, and visited Roseburg, OR. Jeannie had a great-great-great uncle who served in the Civil War, was a resident at one of the first Old Soldiers Homes in Roseburg, died there and was one of the first burials in the Veterans Cemetery there. We returned through Oregon's high desert. We encountered a number of places on our trip with smoke in the air.

Bob Bird, ARCSE State Representative from North Dakota, received the Fellow Award of the SWCD in Reno, NV, on July 23, 2013.

The next meeting for Oklahoma Retirees is scheduled for Friday, October 25, 2013, at the Golden Corral Buffet, 520 South MacArthur Blvd., in Oklahoma City. We invite all former SCS/NRCS employees from Oklahoma and other states to join us. No reservation is required. Oklahoma Retirees have their own website at www.cybershack.net/nrcs/. They have found it quite helpful in our effort to keep retirees informed. This website also has a posting of the attendees, minutes and pictures from each of the meetings.

On July 24th thirty-one souls braved the heat wave to attend the summer quarter lunch at The Old Spaghetti Factory in Tanasborne. Those attending included Stefanie Aschmann, Tom and Ceva Curtis, Kay Denfeld, Len and LaVonne Dugan, Bill and Jean Hughey, John Hedlund, Dave and Joan Johnson, Jack Kanalz, Lowell and Marian Kenedy, Terry Mitchell, Jeff Repp, Maureen O'Rourke, Ken Pfeiffer, Lamont Robbins, Pat Smith, Dick and Kathy Sylvester, Eldena Vanderzanden, Dick Verboort, Gail Voge, Ralph Wadleigh, Don and Diana Wallin, René Walls, Pat Willey and yours truly, Don Stettler.

Several told me of their regrets for not being able to attend. Faithful attender Beth Zetter said she would be celebrating her husband Butch's birthday. Gary Formanek told me that Jane’s siblings were in the area to help celebrate their 47th wedding anniversary.

Roy Bright, who normally makes the summer quarter lunch, couldn't come this year because his son David and his family were visiting from Kansas City, MO. Roy tells me he has the feeling he spending too much time golfing these days. He and Dorothy make it a year round activity by wintering in Oro Valley, AZ. Marsel Tingey told me he couldn't come to the lunch but wanted everyone to know he was still around.

Pat Willey told us that he and Kris are expecting their first grandchild. Ken Pfeiffer is near completion of building a barn on his property near Philipsburg, MT. Stefanie Aschmann recently returned from a trip to Peru. The visit was sponsored by the Yantalo Foundation. She and two others spent two weeks meeting with farmers in the region to help identify the primary... agricultural and environmental concerns. Farmers in the region have begun to recognize that the forest is being threatened by the traditional slash-and-burn agricultural practices and are looking for assistance with alternative agricultural management for a more sustainable agriculture. Eldena VanderZanden told us of her work in fund raising for a number of charities. She also does volunteer work at two elementary schools in Hillsboro. Ralph Wadleigh passed along greetings to the group from Mary Lou High, Bob High’s widow. Ralph reported that Mary Lou is now ninety and doing well. Marian Kenedy told of her and Lowell’s involvement with the Oregon-CA Trails Foundation. The Association seeks to preserve the stories and legacy of the 19th century American migration encompassing the Oregon Trail, the CA Trail, the Santa Fe Trail, the Applegate Trail, the Mormon Pioneer Trail, and the Southern Trail.

The fall quarter lunch will be held on October 23rd at The Old Spaghetti Factory in Clackamas.

Plans were announced by President Bill Bowers for the 2013 SCS/NRCS PA annual meeting to be held in beautiful Chester County on Monday, September 16th. First stop will be the national mushroom capitol, Kennett Square, to tour the Pietro Mushroom Farm. From there, the meeting will move to Longwood Gardens, the famed du Pont masterpiece of garden design and beauty. Assisting President Bill with meeting plans are Rose Marie Updegraff and Tim Murphy. All SCS/NRCS retirees are invited to attend this time and fellowship and learning. Pre-registration and payment are required.

The Southeast PA Retirees held our summer meeting with a lunch at Roger's on July 27th. Although only nine of our faithful followers could attend, we had a great time. As usual, the food was good and the conversation flowed freely along with the BYOBs to a lesser degree in Roger's back room. Those present were: Helen Brossman, Pat Burkett, Jim and Maria Cropper, Carolyn Gehlen, Tom Iivari, Jean Kirkaldie, and Frank and Jane Resides.

A highlight was looking at 20-some pictures taken at the NENTC (Northeast National Technical Center, Chester, PA) about 1988. These were apparently taken during a visit by Wilson Scaling, former Chief, since the Texan was spotted in at least one of them. These were sent to us by Arthur B. Holland, a former NENTC Director. The look-back at 25 years ago was enjoyed by all! Our next meeting will be on a Saturday in November, God willing. Stay tuned for details. On a sad note: Joyce Iivari had a serious back surgery in mid-July and was in a recovery facility at the time of our meeting. Our prayers are with Joyce and her family for a complete recovery.

Green grows the gardens at the Bowers home this summer. Vegetable garden is doing well as the tomatoes begin to roll in. Bill reports the best peach crop in years with more to come. Sadly, the blueberries are all but over, with an average crop. Flowers continue to provide colorful bouquets that Mary Ann cuts and prepares. Bill is busy with Master Gardener activities, a native garden at the Extension office, staffing a plant clinic at the library and attending meetings (not my favorite activity). We have spent time with the grandkids, attended open houses at the Governor’s residence, and family reunions. In August the whole family will meet in San Francisco for a week of redwoods and city tours. We are looking forward to visiting with you all in September at the annual meeting!

From Pat Cecil down in TX: I was fortunate enough to travel to Italy in April! There were only six of us that made the trip: four from Massachusetts and me and my high school friend who now lives in Rockport, TX. We spent the whole week in Taromina, Sicily, and it was absolutely amazing! We were able to walk everywhere we went. Everyone was very friendly and courteous, and we just enjoyed setting our own pace and doing as we pleased. We did take two day trips. One was to the top of Mt. Etna, which is an active volcano on Sicily. The other day trip was to an authentic fishing village in Scilla. We had a wonderful time there — absolutely gorgeous, and our driver ended up calling us the Scilla Six! We had a view of Mt. Etna from our hotel rooms, and on the morning that we left, it erupted, and we saw the lava flow as we were on our way back to the airport at 3 am in the morning! We decided that we will go back! I ended my 5-year volunteer career at our church school in May. I will miss spending time there, especially with all our wonderful students and teachers. And I also attended the closing ceremonies of the Louisiana Lions Camp where my oldest son is the director. He earned a degree in soil science and worked for NRCS a couple of years before going back to work there full time.
From John Akers: For those of you who visited the Chambersburg FO when I was there, probably remember our secretary, Donna Hayes. Donna died a couple of weeks ago from cancer, only about two months after discovering she had the disease. She was 61 years old and had worked for the District for 41 years. Her plans were to retire in another year and move to Cape Charles, VA along the Chesapeake Bay to boat and fish with her husband. On a more cheerful note, our youngest daughter Janice, is planning to get married on November 1st in Richmond, VA. Her future husband is a cook in the Navy. She doesn't like to cook very well, so that ought to work out well. The treasurer for the Bedford Co. chapter of the National Assn. of Active and Retired Federal Employees died in January. I have been elected as the new treasurer. We have a nice group, so I enjoy working with chapter.

From Harvey Pinkerton: First, Vickie had a shoulder replacement in July of 2012. So, she spent the rest of the year on the mend for that. She can do most anything with it now. Very good results. Second, she lost her Mother in April of 2012. She was only 92. We have been spending part of this summer reclaiming the rest of her house and getting rid of many things that were hers and no longer needed. And third, I decided to have a light stroke/TIA also in April of 2012. That delayed our getting home from FL until June of last year. But, as the doc told me, there is good and bad. Strokes are bad, but if you are going to have one, I had a good one. However, I did spend most of the time during the last year recuperating. Just have to have my afternoon naps. But suppose being 70 has nothing to do with that, either. So, we are spending the summer trying to get caught up for the last couple of years of neglect.

Don and Shirley Lindsey have had a busy summer. They love it, but feel a little bit of the "fog in the blender" syndrome. Our granddaughter, Emily, (Bruce's) got married on July 6th. Beautiful wedding! Another granddaughter, Katie, came from Alaska for the wedding and stayed a couple weeks. Then the Lindsey family reunion, and in August another wedding and a trip to Canada. See you in September!

Alan Wood was again planning to travel with Engineering Ministries International in early February; however the Northeast's blizzard delayed him a day--good thing as he was then able to be home for his (and wife Judy's) first grandchild, Katie Quinn Denne, who arrived 3 weeks early! Once Alan got to Niger, his team surveyed and designed a flood protection wall for a large school which had been flooded twice in the last 3 years by the Niger River. Judy also continued her mission trips by returning to Ethiopia in June (for the 5th time) to teach hygiene for schools.

A trip down memory lane brings us a tale from the flowing pen of Harvey Pinkerton: Many years ago, we had an Ivan (McKeever) for our State Conservationist. My first full-time assignment was at the Mercer FO. Shortly after that, another soil con by the name of Chuck Gentry was also assigned to Mercer. It seemed that Mercer was a favorite place to visit for Mr. Ivan. On one such occasion, Mr. Richard (Crowley) informed us that Mr. Ivan was making his rounds and wanted all of us to scatter. Leave early and come back late. We complied. Late that afternoon, Mr. Chuck and I got back at the same time. Low and behold there was a car sitting where my truck was supposed to be parked. Didn't know whose it was, so Chuck dared me to park behind it. So, I did. Next morning, Little Richard called me into the office and informed me that Mr. Ivan was not a happy camper. In fact he was so mad, he just went over the curb and left. Mr. Rollie (Swank) was also there and can relate Mr. Ivan's reaction better than I. Needless to say, neither of us tried that maneuver again.

From PA Editor Fred Bubb: Attics are wonderful places to store memories. A picture, a small item, can trigger memories from the past--some good, some not so good. Among recent finds is a photo of a large group with Ivan McKeever standing front and center. I can remember faces but I can't place when or where. It isn't just SCS because I am standing near my district chairman. I place it about 1959-60. I'll bring it along to the annual meeting. Maybe someone can solve the puzzle. My guess, it was a trip when Mac took SCS and CD people to a PL-566 dedication on Mountain Creek Watershed, Culpepper, VA.

In the bottom of a box was a name tag bearing my name. It was from the National Plowing Contest held in Hershey in August 15–16, 1957. Hanging in my closet yet is the kakhi shirt with the USDA plow logo on the shoulder which was the SCS uniform for that event. Back in a dust-covered corner of the garage second floor are two soil monoliths. One is of a new soil I found in northern Centre County in 1956. It brings back memories of digging the hole and operating a bicycle pump on a stinking hot day as Walt Steputus sprayed lacquer or some ether compound on the soil wall prior to removing the slice of soil to make a monolith. I said not all memories are pleasant.

Carole Heidecker suffered a stroke while in Florida in the spring. Bob brought her back to PA and she was in a rehab hospital. Later she was moved to Room 112 Cumberland Crossings in Carlisle. She remains paralyzed on the right side and cannot speak.

From Duane Pysher: I just wanted to let you know that my wife B has suffered a stroke. She is currently in the York Hospital stroke care unit. We were camping in Gettysburg when she first develop afib problems and was in Gettysburg Hosp. Then the stroke happened and she was transferred here. Has affected her right side and her speech. Starting therapy. Prayers would be appreciated. Duane also sent an update on 8/12/13: B was transferred to an acute rehab today. She is in Health South located in Reading, PA so she is home, so to speak. Will be getting 3 hours or more therapy a day (speech, physical and occupational). So good to be sending this from the Pysher house. Her speech and eyesight have shown some improvement but right arm and leg are about the same.
SOUTH CAROLINA

Byron Thompson, ARCSE Representative
Email: landmgtinc@wctel.net

From Mark Berkland, former SC ARCSE Representative and Immediate Past President of ARCSE: As most of you know, Brenda and I are moving from South Carolina to North Carolina in a couple of weeks. Our new address (if everything works according to plan) will be 5101 Corner Rock Drive, Rolesville, NC 27571. My cell phone, which will remain the same, is 843-475-8164. My new email address will be mberkland480@gmail.com.

We regret leaving the Charleston area, as we really have enjoyed the city and friends. Brenda is already missing her relaxing times at the beach and I will miss my NRCS friends and soccer games. I have really enjoyed my time as the South Carolina ARCSE State Representative and the opportunity it provided me to visit with fellow South Carolina Retirees.

However, I am looking forward to renewing acquaintances with my friends and fellow SCS/NRCS retirees in North Carolina. Brenda will be a lot closer to her family and will be able to help out, as they are experiencing some health issues. It will also be less expensive to fly out of Raleigh than Charleston, so I can see my grandchildren more often, which I recently did at my newest granddaughter’s baptism in Atlanta. I have to show Hallie off a little so I am enclosing a picture of her.

After working in the Design Section of the State Office and the Florence and Anderson/Greenville Areas, Field Engineer Eddie Martin has retired. He had a loyal following wherever he worked. Luke and Laurely Nance came to Columbia 46 years ago to be with SCS. They celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary on August 9th. Joe and Terry Haugh were in Columbia recently visiting. Joe retired from the National Office, but was a Planning Engineer with the Planning Staff in the late 60s and early 70s. Jim Kesecker, retired Head of the Combined River Basin/Watershed Planning Staff, has been house-bound recently with a broken ankle. His kids have been very attentive. Normally the shoe has been on the other foot, as Jim helps his friends and neighbors.

Charles Banks: I work part-time at J. E. Cooley Farms in Chesnee, SC. Our most recent project was the construction of a 4-acre irrigation pond. We are also constructing about 10 acres of hoop houses. I also work as a site manager for the Palmetto Conservation Foundation thanks to a recommendation from Tommy Stone. I am administering their contracts to restore the landscape at Cowpens National Battlefield to look like it did at the time of the battle during the Revolutionary War. We have a really great contractor, so the job is a piece of cake. And I occasionally help Wayne Henderson in the Spartanburg NRCS office as a volunteer. I need to go back to NRCS to have time to play golf!

Hugh Caldwell: In case you all haven't noticed, I'm getting older. My first Grandson, Tyler Caldwell, graduated from Lexington High School and is going to Spartanburg Community College majoring in Horticulture and Landscaping. The other three grandchildren will all be in High School this fall; two in the 9th grade and one in the 10th. For the first summer in many years the family vacationed together, separately. My son Andy and his family took Tyler for his graduation trip to Daytona Beach, FL. Missy and her family and Patsy and I vacationed the same week at Edisto Beach. A much shorter drive! This fall Patsy and I will be busy keeping a friend's one-year old baby girl for 2 to 3 days a week. Patsy will also be substitute teaching as the need arises. She really enjoys it and is on the preferred call list. I will be helping her with the baby, especially when she is subbing, and doing my usual things trying to keep out of trouble. Looking forward to our fall meeting.

Byron Thompson: In addition to my landscaping, lawn maintenance and irrigation work, I have begun my four-year term on the McCormick County Council. With careful planning/scheduling we had a vacation with the family in the Smokey Mountains, Hilton Head Island, and plan to visit the Ozark Mountains in September. As most of you know, Mark Berkland has moved to North Carolina and I will try to fill his shoes as South Carolina’s representative.

President Marie Garsjo presided over the business meeting. Dennis Gaster reported the club has about $1,675.00 in the treasury. Twelve members were present for the June 21st meeting: Earl Blakley, Elaine and Billy Don Davis, Arnold...
King, Bernie Owen, Joyce Petty, Barbara Gillum, Dennis Gaster, Marie Garsjo, Clyde Goodman, Tom Hodges, and Dennis Erinakes.

Mel Davis passed away on June 23, 2013. His obituary was in the last newsletter. Mel was highly thought of among his colleagues. Arnold King sent the following note: “Mel was one of the best leaders we ever had and he will be missed. I was honored last year about this time when Mel called me personally and asked about the retirees meeting in Ft. Worth. He and Marilyn attended and were given some special recognition at the luncheon.” John Peterson also commented, “Sad news. I was with Mel just one year ago at the SWCS meeting in Fort Worth.”

The August 2013 meeting of the SCS/NRCS Alumni Club will be at 10:00 AM on Friday, August 16th 2013 at St Ann’s Catholic Church, 100 SW Alsbury Blvd, Burleson, TX. Refreshments will be provided by Joyce Petty and Dennis Erinakes will provide some money. A program will be presented by Bernie Owen on IRS 2013 tax details.

Dave Drennan presided over the business meeting. Dennis Gaster reported the club has about $1,616 in the treasury. Refreshments were provided by Dennis Gaster and Dave Drennan. The October meeting (our annual cookout) will be postponed by one week in order to make sure the cook has returned from New York. The October meeting date is now on the 25th. A reminder will go out again in the next month’s newsletter.

Twenty one persons were present for the July 19 meeting: Earl Blakley, Elaine and Billy Don Davis, Arnold King, Bernie and Maxine Owen, Joyce Petty and granddaughter Miranda, Jim and Jere Rickman, Dave Stockbridge, Joe Nichols, Don Kapalka, Barbara Gillum, Dennis Gaster, Dave Drennan, Julius Lyons, Betty Sisson, Anita Plummer, Harland Dietz, and Dennis Erinakes.

A program was given by Gracy Walling with assistance from Mary House on the importance of eating properly and dieting as you grow older. If you are not growing older, then you don’t have to worry about this. Several members attested to the value of knowing the amount of calories you consume and the amount of exercise you should routinely do. There is a web site to assist with the correct food groups and amounts, “ChooseMyPlate.gov.” Correct portion sizes are very disappointing.

Julius Lyons, a potential new member, attended the meeting, and was welcomed by the club, and a warm welcome back was also extended to Don Kapalka. He has lost a lot of weight and is progressing nicely since undergoing lung replacement surgery. Don has a new birthday, on Feb. 26th, the day he received new lungs, thanks to the donor from Oklahoma. Arnold King reported on Rocky Rockenbaugh, who has been a long time faithful club member. Rocky and Del are in a retirement community now and have not attended the past few meetings. Maxine Owen will follow up with a call. Harland Dietz reported that their daughter and son-in-law (Sheri and Don Morris) had to evacuate their home because of the June fire in the Black Forest near Colorado Springs, CO. Thankfully the fire missed them. (This fire destroyed over 500 homes and charred twenty two square miles.) Jim and Jere Rickman traveled to Rome, Paris, and London for two weeks with four grandchildren and their son and his wife. Dave and Jean Drennan reported an enjoyable trip to Alaska in June. Dave’s brother and sister-in-law accompanied them on the trip. They stayed with Jean’s sister, Sheri Barton in Sterling, AK, located on the Kenai River. Highlights were trips to Homer Spit and Seward. Dave reported that the Exit Glacier continues to recede. Global warming? Dave thinks so.

This was received via email from David Moffitt: Appreciate the newsletter each month. Maryke and I always have good intentions when the alumni meeting rolls around, but then other commitments come up. We do enjoy reading about all of the group’s activities. We’ve had a fast summer so far.

New Conservation TV Show by Larry Butler: Just thought I (Larry Butler) would let you know that I produce a new TV show that began on January 1, 2013, on RFD-TV. The show is called “Out on the Land,” and is owned, produced, and hosted by me. I am retired State Conservationist from TX, Dr. Larry Butler. The show can be seen on DishNetwork channel 231, on DirectTV channel 345, and a number of cable TV outlets. Season #2 began July 2nd with episode #14 with the subject of Soil Health. In mid-2012, we began shooting episodes for 2013. We had over a million viewers in just the first few months of being on the air. More people are learning about the show each month. The show is intended to cover subjects throughout the U.S. Episodes have been shot in TX, Oklahoma, Nebraska, and Montana.

I am excited about this new season. We have a great line up. People can go to the web site and look at the SCHEDULE to see that we have shot in South TX, Central TX, North TX in the Panhandle, Oklahoma, and Montana. We have shot soils info, tillage, cover crops, grazing management, irrigation techniques, irrigation water efficiencies, water management and conservation, prairie chicken conservation, windbreak establishment, historical preservation, livestock watering and fencing to facilitate grazing management, soil health with demonstrations, construction of a house using compressed earth blocks, sage grouse conservation, NRCS assistance, and more--something for everyone.

The good Lord prepared me for this, especially through my SCS/NRCS career. I used to think that being State Conservationist in TX was my career capstone. Now I think this is it! I love showing the people in the entire United States, and Canada, what the good stewards of the land do on their properties, what the conservation practices are and how they are applied, and the many benefits we all enjoy. A half-hour show doesn't do it justice, but it is a half-hour that runs twice a week and that is an hour more every week than there has ever been on national television to highlight conservation.

On May 11th, a large group of family, friends and former coworkers gathered at the St. Johns Club in Burlington to celebrate the life of former State Conservationist John Titchner. His son Christopher shared family memories and performed one of John’s favorite songs. Longtime family friend Paul Dodd led the group in prayer and shared many remembrances of John’s love of family and trains and his dedication to NRCS and the protection of natural resources. Rich Duesterhaus, Fran Keeler, Judy Doerner, Dick Croft and Claire Ayer spoke about his love of new gadgets and cars as well as the many other things that John had meant to each of them, but above all how supportive and caring he was with friends and coworkers. Fond memories and how much John was missed were also shared by his granddaughters and childhood friends. Other former and current NRCS members in attendance included Laurie Howard, Larry Knight, Dave Van Houten, Dick Fisher, Don Hipes, Ray Godfrey, Eva Diner, Vicky Drew, Beth Ann Finlay and Lorrie Doering. The St. Johns Club, located on the shores of John’s much loved Lake Champlain, provided a fitting location for the event, and as if on cue the sun broke from the clouds to provide spectacular views across the lake. Equally as appropriate was the date, which was National Train Day.

On August 5th Jud and Karen Melton hosted a summer potluck at their Spokane riverfront home in Post Falls, ID for SCS and NRCS retirees and their spouses. Some pictures are included. Seventeen retirees enjoyed an afternoon of good food and lots of conversation. Besides Jud and Karen, others were Jim King, Bill and Betty Weller, Carl and Paula Vennes, Harry Riehle, Hans and Katie Krauss, Gary and Elinor Johnson, Larry and Jean Edmonds, Joe Carmack, and Jerry and Phyllis Richard.

The location was ideal for bird watching and Katie with her keen eye watched an Osprey carrying a fish. Several flocks of geese flew close on their journey up-river. Ken and Tina Kaul were in Montana for a 50th class reunion and to visit an aunt on her 75th birthday.

Lennie and Florence Husa were on a trip visiting kids and grandkids. Jerry Richard attended the ARCSE luncheon and board meeting in Reno. Chuck Houston was the MC; he also made the local arrangements and the White Orchid Room where we had our lunch and board meeting was certainly top notch. Stan Hobson and Amos Garrison flew in from Boise in Amos’ plane, and Stan gives a fond hello to all the co-workers in Spokane.

Gerald and Marilyn Root will celebrate with family their 55th wedding anniversary the week of Aug. 25th. They have been living at Lake Anna in Bumpass, VA for 21 happy years. Barbara Osgood is a finalist in a Petco video contest called “Great Ones.” You can see her video on YouTube at “Old Lab Lady” (http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IBrqTthKaQ). The first prize is $50,000 which would certainly pay a lot of vet bills! John Chenowith from IA suggests that an article be included telling what we civil service retirees can expect with Obama Care. He is in Blue Cross-Blue Shield and Medicare. That would be a good idea.

Wes and Dottie Hofstad have had a busy summer, enjoying frequent July visits from Dottie’s family from Hong Kong and Shanghai. In late July and August, they managed to squeeze in a couple of cool weeks at their summer home in Wisconsin’s north country Duluth-Superior area with Wes’s daughter Joy. This time they flew to Minneapolis-St. Paul, rented a car and drove 3 hours to their cabin on Lake Nebagamon. Joy went hiking and picking blueberries with friends and relatives. This year they didn’t see any bears. Hopefully they will see you all at our fall DC meeting in Oct. Barb and Don Woodward took a Baltic Sea cruise in June and July with stops in Copenhagen, Visby, Tallinn, St. Petersburg, Helsinki and Stockholm. They had the opportunity to spend 3 days in St. Petersburg, where they visited all the national sights such as Hermitage, Peterhof and Catherine Palace. They also spent two days in Reykjavik seeing all the typical tourist sights.

Ralph Masburn sends “Nancy” and I have had one of the most exciting years of our lives. It started with encouraging Christmas cards and notes from dear old SCS friends such as Ken and Connie Cookson, David and Joan Johnson, Eldena VanderZanden, Bob and Elaine Caldwell, Dan Maxim, and Dudley and Joyce Williams; a much appreciated phone visit with Jim Mitchell; and frequent personal contacts with Gene and Carrie Sullivan (we are in the same Gideon Camp) and with Dick and Lori Babeu (who share our same interest: Lori and Nancy with shopping and Dick and I with fishing). In April of this year it was an exceptional privilege to be chosen by the Gideons International to go on a weeklong Bible Blitz to Wroclaw, Poland. I was on a team that helped the Polish Gideons distribute over 33,000 scriptures to schools, colleges, hospitals, and on busy street corners. It was an inspiring time for me. After completing that week, my two sons, David and Drew, met me in Germany and took me on a 10-day tour of famous WWII battle sites. I have wanted to do that all my adult life. It was very meaningful seeing the bridge at Remagen, Hurtgen Forrest, Malmedy, Battle of the Bulge sites, and Normandy battlefields. What a personal debt we owe to all those who fought for our freedom in WWII! In June our whole family of 16 enjoyed a cruise for a week to the eastern Caribbean. There we learned that our first grandson and his wife would soon bless us with our first great grandchild, a boy. No doubt, the Lord has blessed us this year with many fun activities and good health.

Dick and Lori Babeu have completed training and are now Certified Arkansas Master Naturalists. As part of their work, they both volunteer at the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission’s Witt Stephens Nature Center in Little Rock. In addition to volunteering, they also enjoy riding their bikes around Maumelle and Little Rock. When not volunteering or riding bikes, Dick continues to fish as much as possible. They also recently returned from a two-week family vacation on Grand Cayman.

Ann and Ron Marlow celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary with a 15-day trip to Hawaii, visiting four islands. Highlights included Pearl Harbor Historic Sites, hiking Diamond Head Crater, and visiting the Polynesian Cultural Center (Oahu); seeing the Na Pali coastline and Waimea Canyon by helicopter (Kauai); Hawaii Volcanoes National Park (Hawaii); and Haleakala National Park and the scenic Road to Hana (Maui). Ron says that if you ever talk to someone who is unsure whether they have ever driven the Road to Hana, you can rest assured they haven’t (52 miles with 59 bridges, 46 of which are only one-lane wide, approximately 620 curves with 30 or so that are one lane!). The trip included lots of beautiful waterfalls and beaches, many hikes, great food, and much more.

Barb and I (John P.) enjoyed surrounding the ARCSE meeting in Reno with a few days in the Napa Valley visiting wineries and a few days in Yosemite National Park. Great fun had by all.

The next Washington DC National Capitol Area Luncheon will be on October 3, 2013, at Philips Restaurant, gathering at 11:30am.
National Boy Scout Jamboree

The NRCS participated in planning and conducting activities along the Conservation Trail at the National Boy Scout Jamboree July 15 through 24, 2013, at the Summit Bechtel Family National Scout Reserve in the New River Gorge near Beckley, WV. This new site is also where Boy Scouts will go to experience “High Adventure” activities, such as zip lining, mountain biking, etc. The NRCS partnered with the Southern Soil and Water Conservation District in offering “hands-on” experiences for soils, plants, engineering, and a variety of other conservation-related activities.

About 50,000 boy scouts and volunteers participated in the National Jamboree.

WEST VIRGINIA

Peg Reese, ARCSE Representative

Tom Vance, District Conservationist at the Lewisburg Service Center, retired on June 29th. Bob Schnably, District Conservationist for the Ranson Field Office, plans to retire on September 3rd.

Peg Reese drove to Florida in July to attend a partial family reunion with her oldest brother’s extended family. She doesn’t recommend crowded theme parks in the July heat and humidity, but did enjoy sharing a condo with her nephew and his family. The major excitement of the week happened at 2:00 a.m. on the first night. The security guard called seeking the parents of her three-year-old great-nephew who was found wandering the grounds. As Logan was so expert at opening the locks, the lock was jury-rigged with thick rubber bands to keep the escape artist inside for the remainder of the week. Fortunately, this low-tech trick worked to keep Logan confined and safe. On the way back to West Virginia, Peg had a brief, but very enjoyable, visit with retired State Engineer Angela Green. Angela, who now lives in North Carolina, enjoys being more involved in the daily lives of her family, especially her grandchild.

Annual Meeting: Get ready for open season by attending the annual WV Retirees Meeting at the WV State Office on November 7th. Representatives from major carriers will give a heads up on health plan changes. The meeting will begin with a reception at 10:30 a.m.
