NOTES FROM THE POTOMAC

John Stierna

Congress—The appropriation process continues on the Hill. The House Appropriations Committee has passed the FY2017 Agricultural Appropriations bill that provides $855.3 million for conservation operations, about $5 million less than the President’s budget request. The bill capped the Environmental Quality Incentive Program at $1,425 million, which is $225 million less than mandated in the 2014 Farm Bill. House appropriators also rescinded $98 million from FY 2016 EQIP funding. The bill capped the Conservation Stewardship Program at 8 million acres for FY 2017, rather than the 10 million new acres mandated in the Farm Bill. The Agricultural Conservation Easement Program was not capped, leaving it at $500 million. The Agricultural Management Assistance funding was limited to $5 million, half of the authorized amount.

The bill provided $12 million in discretionary funding for the Watershed Rehabilitation Program, but limited carryover monies for rehab work to $9 million, providing a total of $21 million.

The full $150 million for the FSA-administered conservation loan guarantee program was provided in the House bill. For assistance, producers and landowners must use loan proceeds to implement practices called for in an NRCS-approved conservation plan.

The House is not likely to act on the appropriation bill until late in the year, perhaps after the election, with agriculture rolled into a larger omnibus appropriation bill. The Senate will be working on their version of the bill in the days ahead, and then House and Senate appropriators will be able to have negotiations on what might be put forward for an omnibus bill later in the year.

NRCS—Chief Weller recently informed constituency groups that the final rule for the EQIP program will be released before April 30th, about the time this newsletter is distributed. He also indicated that the final rule for the Agricultural Conservation Easement Program will be delayed until October.

NRCS is investing up to $103 million in post-disaster recovery, and the rehabilitation of aging dams in 19 States. This effort is using $93 million in Emergency Watershed Protection program funds and $12 million in Watershed Rehabilitation Program funds. This initiative will help communities repair damage and make improvements to reduce future damage from natural disasters like hurricanes, fires, and floods.

RCP — Pre-proposals are due on May 10th for the Regional Conservation Partnership Program. Through this program, qualified organizations are able to partner with NRCS to assist producers and landowners solve resource problems and thereby address priority resource concerns in identified areas. NRCS has provided two webinars to aid organizations planning to submit pre-proposals.

Clean Water Rule—This rule, also called the Waters of the United States (WOTUS) rule, continues to be highly controversial. EPA and the Corps of Engineers have been blocked from implementing the rule by court order. Recently, the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals has retained jurisdiction of the case rather than allowing it to be moved to a Federal district court for consideration of challenges to the rule. A Senate proposal to block implementation of the rule, if it survives court challenges, failed by four votes. It is clear that this controversial rule will ultimately be decided in the courts.

Reflections—Former Chief Bill Richards and former Associate Chief Galen Bridge will be sharing some of their personal reflections of their service at SCS and NRCS. This will be at an informal discussion this week at NRCS headquarters. This seems like a great idea that perhaps could be continued with others that have served as Chief or other senior officials at NRCS.

Soil Health—Two more interesting videos on the Science of Soil Health have been released by NRCS. Perhaps through use of these videos, NRCS is providing another avenue of outreach to the general public with information about soils and farming. Take a look at them:

Here is the website for the soil health. From here, you can select several videos concerning soil health.

Administrative Transformation—NRCS has implemented a major transformation of administrative functions throughout the country. Administrative staff now report to a subject matter specialist (e.g., Chief Financial Officer) in their respective field, thereby bringing greater consistency to administrative work by the agency. This was implemented last October, and now seems firmly in place.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Cecil Currin

It was 72 degrees in Massachusetts today, and we are smelling the diesel from tractors and trucks. Planting is underway in our small farm town of Hadley. Lou and I are getting ready for the summer season as we try to take care of unfinished things in Hadley. ARCSE has a bit of unfinished business as well, but we have every reason to be optimistic for the future.

Members have responded well to the questionnaire about the printed newsletter. It was sent only to members who receive the newsletter by mail. We sent 292 questionnaires, and 194 people have responded. Seventy-six of those switched to the Enewsletter, and 78 additional folks are willing to pay an additional $14 per year to continue with the printed version. Many of these have really good reasons such as no computer, rural areas without access to a provider, inability to read a computer screen and some who just really want to hold and enjoy the printed copy. I received numerous notes about the value of and appreciation for the newsletter and personal notes from old friends. Thirty-one members included donations totaling $1,253. The response to this special mailing and to the last few newsletters has not only balanced the budget but has given us a small surplus for the future. It is so exciting to have a balanced budget after several years of deficits.

Oh yes, the unfinished business. There were almost a 100 folks who did not respond to the questionnaire. If you are reading a printed copy of the newsletter and you did not respond to the questionnaire, please do so. If the dog ate it, you can contact anyone on the board for a copy. We need to hear from you.

The other piece of unfinished business is membership. ARCSE is still not attracting recent retirees, and we continue to reach new lows on membership levels. The Board plans to sit in on a special session about this issue at the annual meeting in July. In the meantime, please give us your ideas and….. ask someone to become a member. The first year is free! Cecil Currin, President

Historical Reflection on Hiring Practices in SCS

The passing of Pearl Reed, former Chief of the Natural Resources Conservation Service, reminds us of the influence of the Civil Rights Act in the mid-1960s and onward on hiring within the Soil Conservation Service. I wrote about this episode for a conference held at Florida A&M University, Tallahassee, FL, on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the Morrill Act of 1890, which provided funding for the 1890 land grant universities. Fortunately, the article that appeared in the journal Agricultural History is still online at:

http://www.nrcs.usda.gov/wps/portal/nrcs/detail/national/about/history/?cid=nrcs143_021380

Editor's note: Doug's article is 19 pages in length. The concluding summary is as follows:

“In summary, the few Blacks who worked for the Soil Conservation Service in the 1940s and 1950s served their clientele well by focusing on those who were not being reached. To take one example, John Jones recalled that when he went to work in Anson County, North Carolina there were a few Blacks, those with fairly large farms, who were cooperators with SCS. But some of the black farmers in the northwest corner of the county around Burnsville and other communities did not have conservation plans. By the time Jones left the county, all the black farmers of the county were cooperators with SCS. Jones and his contemporaries were role models for the generation of recruits who joined SCS after the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The response to the Civil Rights Act involved some innovative approaches in working with the 1890 schools to gain recruits. Some of the recruits of the mid-1960s have progressed through the administrative levels of the agencies. Yet, it remains obvious that continued vigilance is needed to ensure that those who do the public's business serve all the public and provide equal employment opportunities for those interested in soil and water conservation.”

Membership Recruitment
By Ron Marlow, Secretary-Treasurer

Complimentary membership: When you have retiree social functions or any other time that you see retirees (especially new retirees) from NRCS, be sure to remind them that they are eligible for a one-year complimentary membership if they have not previously been a member of ARCSE. All that is required is that they submit a membership application.

Change in complimentary membership: The Board voted at its meeting last summer to expand the complimentary membership to all NRCS retirees who have not previously been a member. Since 2003, the complimentary membership offer applied only to “NRCS employees retiring after Jan. 1, 2003.” The wording in the existing Brochure and Membership Application may be changed with pen and ink. For digital copies of the updated Brochure and/or updated Membership Application use this link: http://www.arcse.org/nFORMS.htm.

ARCSE Brochures: Many of you are planning your annual state retiree social function. These functions are a good opportunity to make our ARCSE membership brochure available to retirees. If you need additional brochures, please send a request to Ron Marlow at arcse@cox.net or use the digital copy link shown above to download or print copies.

Membership Renewals
By Ron Marlow, Secretary-Treasurer

Renewal of membership by existing ARCSE members is the most important step that can be taken to sustain ARCSE financially without raising dues. The second step, and not far behind, is recruitment of new members. For 2016, 32 voting members and one complimentary member have not renewed. This is our lowest number of non-renewals in recent years, but still way too high. I recently provided to state/section representatives a list of members that had not renewed for 2015 and 2016 respectively. I strongly encourage the representatives to share the portion of the list that applies to their state/section with other members. Often the renewal is an oversight, and a gentle nudge may be all it takes to get action. The 2016 dues form can be found at: http://www.arcse.org/nFORMS.htm.

ARCSE REPRESENTATIVES
By Ron Marlow, Secretary Treasurer

Introducing a New State Representative
I want to welcome a new state representative on board. Upon retirement of ARCSE state representative Karl Klingelhofer, the new state representative for Arizona is Ken Cookson. Ken retired in 1994 as a Management Analyst in Washington, D.C. The ARCSE Board deeply appreciates Karl’s efforts in leading ARCSE activities in Arizona and especially his role in submitting retiree news. The Board is extremely pleased to see an ARCSE member like Ken stepping forth into a leadership role.

Appointment of New State/Section Representatives
When an existing state/section representative decides to step down, the representative often finds a replacement. When this occurs, the name of the replacement should be submitted to the respective Regional Vice President. ARCSE regional boundaries are found in the ARCSE Charter at http://www.arcse.org/ncharter.htm.

The ARCSE Position Manual, under DUTIES OF ARCSE REPRESENTATIVE, states that “The Regional Vice-President appoints ARCSE Representatives.” Furthermore, one of the duties of the Vice President stated in the manual is “arranging for replacing a Representative when vacancies occur.” So please coordinate with and through the respective Regional Vice President when arranging for and announcing a replacement.

Also ensure that the new representative is a member of ARCSE. It is difficult for a representative that is not a member to carryout duties such as recruiting new members, keeping up with changes in ARCSE, and acquiring and submitting news for the newsletter.

Don Hamer: Long Time Employee and Volunteer of the Cape May Plant Materials Center
From Laura Coover. Donald W. Hamer has worked on the New Jersey Cape May Plant Materials Center (PMC) property even before the PMC was built. Don worked for the private vegetable grower that farmed the property before it was purchased by the USDA and State of New Jersey with Green Acres Open Space Funds in 1965.

In his 30-year career at the PMC, Don advanced from Biological Technician to PMC Manager before retiring in 1994. And that is when his volunteer story began.

After retiring (minus a few years hiatus), Don signed up as an Earth Team volunteer and continued the Center’s work to develop a cold-tolerant selection of sea oats (Uniola paniculata) that could survive winters in the northern Mid-Atlantic States. As PMC
Manager, Don started this project in an attempt to add plant diversity to dune plantings along the northern Mid-Atlantic Coast. Sea oats naturally occurs as far north as Assateague Island, on the Maryland/Virginia state line. However, a cold tolerant selection was being sought that would ultimately be adapted to Delaware and southern New Jersey.

After Don’s retirement in 1994, this effort floundered until 2010, due to changing priorities and the loss of many sea oats evaluation plantings from coastal storms. However, in the fall of 2010, about 15 surviving plants from a 1993 planting in Avalon, New Jersey were discovered still growing and producing seed.

With Don’s assistance, the PMC staff collected and germinated seed from those original plants. The seedlings were transplanted to the greenhouse until they were mature enough to be out-planted.

Ultimately, these plants became part of new evaluation trials in Avalon and Cape May Point. In total, over 800 plants were installed in field evaluation plantings from 2010-2014. Don was instrumental in collecting seed, propagating plants, evaluating the success of the field plantings, and helping establish a new sea oats production field on the Cape May Plant Center.

In September 2015, at the 50th anniversary celebration of the Cape May PMC, it was announced that a future sea oats release will be named in his honor, Hamer Germplasm Sea Oats. David Smart, former New Jersey State Resource Conservationist, said, “Nice to hear Don is still active. He is a good man and dedicated to improving the plant world!”

Bill Fobair Report: Joyce and Bill Fobair purchased a 2016 MKZ Hybrid. The MKZ has a 2.0-litre gas engine and lithium batteries. It is not a plug-in. The gas engine has a four gallon tank. On the last fill up the display screen showed that we would get 980 miles before filling up the tank again. Amazing!
Gary Nordstrom Report: As many of you know, I had a major heart attack toward the end of February. Thankfully, with the help of surgery, I was able to survive; and after a month in the hospital, I am now home and going to out-patient therapy twice a week to regain my strength. I have a lot of people to thank for getting me through this, especially my wife Jayne, son David, and brother-in-law Chuck Peters. I also want to thank all of you who said prayers for me and sent me get-well cards.

Steve Black Report: Steve and Licia Black of Phoenix spent a week in Costa Rica in March visiting an old friend and his family who have lived there for 45 years. Steve and Licia visited the beaches, forests, volcanoes, lakes, waterfalls, and other sites around the San Jose area. They went on a very interesting crocodile river boat trip to get “up close and personal” with the crocs! They also spent a week in Florida visiting friends in Naples and then visited Key West and Miami Beach. Steve still goes back to his farm in Illinois several times a year and was there in April during crop planting season. Always something to do and maintain on an old farm!

Ken Cookson Report: The Moreland’s, George’s, Bridge’s and Cookson’s decided we should have a cookout before everybody scattered for the summer. That we did at the George’s. We were able to relive a lot of our SCS experiences for the 8th time and even embellish on some of them. Everybody had a good time!

Ron Moreland Report: Ron and Barb Moreland have continued a ten-year tradition of housing collegiate women golfers who come to play in a golf tournament on our course. For the past three years, we have housed Vivi and Vale Macias who are from Guadalajara, Mexico, and who attend New Mexico State.
Marion Strong Report: I am pleased to announce that my grandson, Andrew Strong, Jim’s son, received his Eagle Scout badge at a Court of Honor on March 15th. Both of Jim’s sons are Eagle Scouts now. I am planning a trip to Seattle in June to attend Andrew’s graduation ceremony. He will graduate from Rainier Christian High School and has been accepted for study at Western Washington University. He will join his brother, Nathan who is currently a sophomore with a Psychology major. I have been on dialysis for several months, which complicates travel. I have to take my cycler and supplies to last the time of my visit. I dialyze each night while I am sleeping. I am looking forward to my 98th birthday on May 2nd. I am living alone and drive to the store, church, and other local trips.

Hello to all our fellow SCS/NRCS retirees across the country! We continue to meet monthly for both a breakfast and lunch get-together for all retirees who can make it.

April luncheon with Gary and Linda Bullard. In our last report, we shared the challenges Gary Bullard has experienced in trying to have a hip replacement surgery completed going back to last November. As of this time Gary is still waiting for that to happen with his surgery just now scheduled for June 7th. On April 6th Gary and his wife Linda did make a special effort (Gary still "without a hip") to come join our retiree group at our April 6th luncheon in Davis.

Knowing Gary was going to be there, we had a great turnout of our retirees who came to provide encouragement and best wishes for the work that still needs to be done. Those making it to the lunch included Gary and Linda Bullard, Danny Maxim, Shirley Leeper, Mark Cocke, Chuck Bell, Ron and Marilyn Hoppes, Hank and Christie Wyman, Ed Schmidt, John Rogers, Harold Honeyfield, Rome Rivera, Jack and Janet George, Walt Sykes, Darwyn Briggs and myself (Bill Ward).

Following are four photos of our group, with the exception of Hank Wyman, Darwyn Briggs and myself. Hank had the opportunity to share his experiences with the same procedure he has had done on both his hips.
Both Gary and his wife Linda appreciate continued prayers for a successful surgery. Gary can be reached by phone at (916) 381-1502 or e-mail at gbullard@comcast.net.

Bill Ward’s Pyramid Lake Fishing trip: I had a great experience fly-fishing Pyramid lake in early April. Pyramid Lake is located in Nevada on the Pyramid Lake Paiute Indian reservation and managed by the tribe. Pyramid Lake contains a unique strain of Lahontan Cutthroat Trout that can get very large, with fish exceeding 20 pounds not considered uncommon. Following are two “fish pictures” from that trip plus a link to a “music video” I put together with some additional pictures and music from our Western Lights Band, 1999 CD, “Favorites of Ours!”

!Image of man with a large cutthroat trout

To date, Bill Ward’s largest Pyramid lake fish, 12 to 14 pounds

Many more fish like this cutthroat trout were caught, and all fish released!

That is all from the California retirees this time around. Best wishes to all our fellow retirees across the country!

Sixteen retirees and spouses gathered for lunch and visiting on April 7th at the Urbana Garden Restaurant. Attending were Elsie Campbell, Lee and Nancy Bridgman, Dick Dickerson, Wiley Scott, Ray and Paula Coombes, Jim and Bonnie McQuilken, Earl Voss, Jim and Cheryl Evans, Dave Dalzell, Leo Downing, Jerry Leonard, and Dale Benz.

Lee and Nancy Bridgman have six grandchildren and all except one, who is still in college, have completed college. They have eight great-grandchildren, with two more due in July. Lee had just planted 325 walnut and cypress trees on his farm in Pike County the day before our gathering, and he said he was a little sore and stiff. He planted the old fashion way with a planting bar. In 50 years those walnut trees should be worth a nice retirement! Lee, that would put you at around 130 years of age! Lucky grandkids! Lee and Nancy are going to Vancouver, BC in June to visit a grandson and are planning a couple months in Arizona next winter.

Leo Downing volunteers one day a week at the hospital in Danville. He has been doing volunteer work there for several years. He said one of his daughters has moved in with him, so now Leo doesn't have to cook, clean, and do all of that domestic work!

Paula Coombes had open heart surgery in February and is recuperating from that. We wish you a quick healing, Paula.

Jim McQuilken said he retired from his postretirement job in December and has more time to do woodworking. He cut up a butternut log to make several things for people.

Elsie Campbell went to Memphis, TN with a niece at Christmas time and enjoyed it.

Earl Voss has made the hospital his second home this winter. In December he was hospitalized with an e coli infection in his blood which was successfully treated. Then in January he had his gall bladder removed and a week later had two gallstones removed that evaded the first surgery. But this did not keep him from his winter cruise which he and Barb went on a week later.

Dale Benz told about his cornea replacement and cataract surgeries in November and January. It is amazing what they can do in medicine. Everything was successful, and he can see again.

We are sorry to report the passing of Dennis Beyer on April 10th. His wife, Susan, recently moved into a dementia center in Champaign. We extend our sympathy to Susan, their son Brian, their daughter Erin and their families.

Mark your schedules for our next gathering on October 6th in Urbana.

Ann and I recently returned from a trip that took us through parts of Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Illinois. The old car put on a lot of miles, but we enjoyed seeing that part of the country. Some of our favorite parts included the irrigated fields in Arkansas, the monument where all of the boundary surveys began for the Louisiana Purchase, white sand beaches along the Gulf of Mexico, walking on the beach along the Atlantic Ocean, visiting a few plantations, the Smokey Mountains, and touring several Revolutionary War and Civil War battlefields and museums.

Rosie and Bob Gaudette spent a couple of months in Myrtle Beach, SC, this winter relaxing in the warmer climate, walking on the beach, and enjoying the beautiful sunrises over the ocean. They have been going in that direction every winter for 15 years. One of their favorite pastimes is to collect shells and shark teeth along the beach. Bob said this year they collected about 2,200 shark teeth. He used many of these along with thousands more that they have collected over the years to make necklaces and a dozen wall plaques. Each wall plaque used 700 to 800 teeth. Bob told me that he will bring one of the wall plaques to our Christmas party this year to show everyone. I'm looking forward to seeing it!

Lyle and Charlotte Asell took a road trip in February to visit Lyles’s sister and her husband in Casa Grande, AZ, as well as other relatives in the Phoenix area. Lyle thinks they have as many relatives in Arizona as in the Midwest during the winter months! The road trip continued to California to visit some cousins. After getting back home, they left the next day to go to the Twin Cities for baby-sitting duty with their 14-month-old grandson. It’s always fun to have a little time to spoil the grandkids – then come back home!

Thanks to Duane Miller for providing this report on his annual skiing trip. For the 31st time in as many years, the “Black Hole Ramblers” have made their annual trip to Summit County in central Colorado. For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the Ramblers, they are now mostly retired NRCS employees who actually like the altitude and snow. Sometimes we even do some skiing! The group this year consisted of retirees Bob Dayton, Duane Miller, and Rick Knutson; Dale and Joanne Bruce, current NRCS/Tech support; Craig Muhlberg (Former NRCS) and his wife Kim; Jody Christiansen, current NRCS; and Rick, friend of Rick Knutson. There are many great breweries and micro distilleries in Summit County that always deserve some or our hard-earned retiree pay! Much time is spent in hot tubs, as well as playing cards and dominos. Every year we ski a bit less than we did thirty years ago, but many of the group have taken up snowshoeing, which is almost as much fun! I believe everyone had a great time and are looking forward to next year.

Thank you to Sheila Cox for providing the following on her activities since she retired. It’s hard to believe it’s been over four years. I retired on October 3rd, 2011, as the Assistant State Conservationist, Field Office Operations, for Area 1 in Sioux City, IA. So what have I been doing? My daughter and grandson moved home about two months after retiring. That time was spent watching a one-year-old while my daughter found a job, apartment, and a daycare provider. I took classes and became a master gardener and volunteer for the Extension Service. I was also President and very active in the Iowa Chapter of the Soil and Water Conservation Society in 2011 and 2012, and drove the conservation van during RAGBRAI for several years. Editor’s Note: RAGBRAI is the Register’s Annual Great Bicycle Ride Across Iowa, which is a non-competitive bicycle ride organized by The Des Moines Register. We’ve traveled a lot: cruises to Alaska, the Caribbean, and Mexico. I worked in Hawaii for seven years, and my husband, John, still owns a harvest business on Oahu. He goes over there 2-3 times a year, and I go back about every other year. We have also spent several weeks a year in Florida managing a couple of rental houses, but due to the recent upswing in the housing market, are down to one house that may eventually become our winter home. I didn’t work for anyone that first year, but the second and third summer I worked for the Southern Iowa RC&D doing Wetland Reserve and Grassland Reserve easement monitoring in southern and southwest Iowa. Last year the RC&D didn’t have any work for me, so I worked a few months at a Lowe’s garden center. Then Christine Evans, DC in Woodbury County, asked if I could come back to the field office and help them out as a district technician. Both Jim Kovarna and Barb Benson retired at the end of December, with over 65 years of combined experience. I’ve been working three days a week since July, 2015, and find that the field office and working with farmers on their land is really the best job there is.

Many of us Cyclone fans were pretty excited about our men’s basketball team this year. Eldon and Jeannie Weber have had season tickets to ISU football and women’s and men’s basketball for over 25 years. Eldon told me that when he watched ISU beat Kansas this year, when the Jayhawks were ranked number one, was the second time that has happened. He attended the game in 1957 when ISU beat number-one-ranked Kansas. That was when all-Americans Gary Thomson and Wilt Chamberlain were playing. I hope we don’t have to wait another 59 years for that to happen again!

Gerald and Marion Stevens celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on April 2nd. They enjoyed a festive dinner with family and friends at the Saints Avenue Buffet in Boone. Congratulations Jerry and Marion!

Shortly after Larry Hammitt retired, he was diagnosed with cancer in his bladder. He will undergo three or four rounds of chemotherapy starting in late April. The bright side of this story is that it was caught in time, and he should have a full recovery. Larry told me that he has taken on an interesting part time job in retirement. The Harrison County SWCD hired him to perform the O&M inspections on watershed structures in their county. He will be inspecting around 60 sites per year in Harrison County. Pottawattamie County also recently asked Larry to do their O&M inspections. He plans to accept their offer and will begin that work soon, hopefully between chemo sessions.

In April 2013, Monica Monk was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer. Since then, the cancer has spread to other parts of her body. Monica has endured numerous treatments and made many trips to Rochester, MN, to secure their expertise and care. She is an amazing person who is a strong believer in the power of prayer and positive thinking. Her spirit serves as a good role model for all of us. Let’s keep both Monica and Larry in our thoughts and prayers.

Mark your calendars. Our retiree summer function this year will be on June 23rd. We will be meeting in the SCORE Pavilion in Nevada. Socializing will start at 11am with lunch being served at 12:30. Lunch will be catered by Hickory Park from Ames. We will have a short business meeting with a program following. The program will be presented by Dorman Otte, the National Association of Retired Federal Employees (NARFE) state legislative chair and President of the Des Moines NARFE Chapter. A map to the pavilion and a registration sheet will be sent out with the next Current Developments.

In April, we were saddened to learn about the passing of Loren Greiner from Emmetsburg. He was 108 years old and was Iowa’s oldest living World War II veteran. He retired from the Soil Conservation Service in 1968.

I am up to my ears preparing for the Kansas NARFE State Convention which is in Salina this coming weekend. It sure takes a lot of work to get it carried out.

After three weeks of heavy winds, Salina finally received a little rain from this last storm system. Several areas in western Kansas received 5 to 7 inches. Salina’s official measurement was three-quarters of an inch! As usual, the big rains went around us.

Being a sports fan there was excitement at our house when I learned that the Royals were traveling throughout the state to share the World Series trophy with their fans and that a stop would be made in Salina. The day finally arrived, and Ron and I donned our championship tees and headed for the mall. I knew that this was a once-in-a-lifetime chance to see the trophy up close and was anxious to see the display. There it was and pictures were being taken, which I wasn’t going to pass up. After standing in line for a short time for our picture, we then visited with friends and enjoyed the mascots as they visited throughout the crowd. Yes, we were impressed.

Ron and Deanne Lull by the Kansas City Royal’s 2015 World Series Trophy

Two have joined our retiree roles. A. Dale Ehlers retired February 29th, 2016, as a Soil Conservation Technician in the Marion Field Office. Edwin W. Radatz retired April 2nd, 2016, as a Hydraulic Engineer on the Engineering Staff in the Kansas State Office in Salina. I worked with Ed in the late 1980s when he worked on the Watershed Planning Staff. He then transferred to the Hutchinson Area Office as Area Engineer before returning to Salina in 1993 to finish his career on the Engineering Staff.

Congratulations are sent to Jean Hamilton who will celebrate her 80th birthday on April 22nd. Jean is the widow of Vernon Hamilton. Jean is able to continue with her handiwork and always has a piece in progress which she works on during meetings she attends.

Our sympathies go out to the Droge family. Harry C. Droge passed away April 5th, 2016. I met Harry in the late 1950s when we worked on the Watershed Planning Staff in the Kansas State Office. Harry spent most of his career working as a Construction Inspector in a number of the watershed project offices. His wife, Norma, preceded him in death.

We were saddened to learn of the death of Richard L. Wynia who suffered a massive heart attack and passed away April 3rd, 2016. Although not a retiree, Rich was well known throughout Kansas and neighboring states. Since 1991 he had served as the Manager of the Plant Materials Center in Manhattan, KS. He was beneficial in the selection, propagation, development, and release of new varieties and certified seed for many different plants, trees, and shrubs for conservation purposes. His wife, Shirley, survives.

The Kansas Annual Meeting will be held on Friday, June 24th, 2016, in Salina, KS, at the Holiday Inn, 3145 S. Ninth Street. The evening will begin with a social hour at 5pm followed by dinner at 6pm. The program following the meal will be given by Jennifer Krehbiel. Her husband, Dean Krehbiel, is the current NRCS State Resource Conservationist. Jennifer will share her experiences as a beekeeper. She has been keeping bees for eight years and now has 24 hives.

Well, it's been a quiet few months for the Massachusetts retirees. We survived the mostly snowless winter, and the signs of Spring are unmistakable.

Carol Rickless, who was the state conservationist's Secretary, decided to retire in late January after 33 years of federal service. Carol came to NRCS after many years with the Postal Service at the bulk mail center in Springfield, and she jumped right into being the social sparkplug for the office, organizing holiday lunches and activities. NRCS is going to miss Carol's spirit and enthusiasm.

In case you missed it, March 14th, 2016 was the annual celebration of Pi Day (3/14/16 = 3.1416 = pi). Some people spent the day in quiet contemplation of the mysteries of pi, while others just ate pie to observe the day. A small Pi Day party was held at the Hadley Diner attended by Cecil Currin, Frank Wilda, Paul Benjamin, Rudy Chlanda, Dave Nelson, and Carl Gustafson. My sources tell me that Carl Gustafson is still putting in a few days a week at the Fish and Wildlife Service regional office on some hurricane repair projects, and Cecil Currin is busy on a wide variety of agricultural work for his neighbor. I also learned that Paul Benjamin had an enjoyable round of golf with Rick Devergilio and Mark Grennan.

One of the sure signs of Spring is that our "snowbirds" Lou and Cecil Currin are making plans to head back to their home on the St. Lawrence River in New York, having spent the cold winter in the balmy climate of Hadley, MA.

Welcome to the retiree ranks Gena Michalson.

Lane Thurman: No seeds in the ground yet but got the garden worked up. Haven't even been fishing yet this year. When the weather is agreeable, the wind has been really blowing hard, making it hard to stay on the lake. We also have another problem that has arisen just recently. Nancy has had a reoccurrence of the lymphoma that she had about eight years ago, and so we have been trying to get on top of that fairly rapidly. It was found when she had a PET scan just recently. She will be going back on chemo shortly, and we hope that will work its charm as it did before when she had it. So keep her in your prayers again and wish for the best in this fight she is starting again.

Dennis Shirk: Not much new to report. We are basically well and blessed. Have been doing some riding and got my fall calves weaned. Will be going to Lesterville at the end of April for camping and riding. Otherwise, just normal stuff at home. See ya down the trail.

Alton Taylor: Hope to spend the month of May in AZ with our daughter and family. Hope son-in-law can teach me how to use Linux and smart phone. I'm tempted to test its smarts at times by dropping it in the pot and see if it can swim out.

Mike Blaine: The Blaines are planting garden and mowing yard. Mushrooms are not up yet, and I already got my first tick stuck on me (hunting mushrooms!). And just in case there is anyone out there who is having allergic-type reactions that doctors cannot identify as resulting from known causes--our allergist last year told us about a fairly newly identified tick disease that makes a person allergic to all mammal meat. Mike was having two allergic attacks per month over the last several years. When he stopped eating beef, pork and venison last June, the attacks immediately stopped and he hasn't had one since. Pam has the same condition which we believe resulted from tick bites while we lived in south Missouri. The only meats we can eat are poultry and fish, which is ok--we like both. Have a great spring and summer, folks. I hope this info might help someone.

Jess Epple: Best Wishes from near Muskogee, OK and greetings from Indian Country and the site of a history-making Civil War Battle, "Honey Springs Depot" (south of Checotah, OK).

The new 8000-sq.ft. visitors' center is nearly complete. We hope civil war enthusiasts will stop and learn more about this large complex/unique battlefield site, where a Regiment of African-Americans were used in combat on July 17th, 1863. Also, large numbers of American Indians fought on both sides. Our great-grand kids continue to increase in numbers. We now have seven. Six are located in Missouri and one in Franklin, TN. Thank goodness for smart phones and tablets! They help us keep up with their progress. Most of our spring calf crop has arrived and are doing well. We have been fortunate so far to have rainfall at the correct time. Grass is growing, and it's time to weed spray and fertilize. No rest for us hard-working "middle aged" ranchers!

Have an eventful and healthy fun-filled spring/summer.

Bill Pauls: Kris and I are now officially "Ridgerunners!" We are moved and settled in here on Thunder Mtn., 149 Kingfisher, Camdenton, MO 65020. It is simply beautiful here right now. The dogwoods are in full bloom and the redbuds are just now leafing out. We welcome visits from any of our ol' SCS/NRCS friends and former colleagues. You can fish, boat, swim, hot tub, or just sit around and swap stories of the good ol' days. We went to Cordy Potter's funeral, paid our respects and saw a lot of old friends. What a great guy that man was. Truly he will be missed! We're headed up to the Prairie Fork Conservation Field Day, a last Parks & Recreation Commission meeting in Columbia, then will head out to Delaware for marathon #93. #94 will be in Seattle in June (God willin’). We close on our house in Columbia on May 2nd. We will start on the garden when we get back from DE. Life is good and we are blessed. PS: We just entertained old friends from our SCS days in Bethany, MO this past weekend. His name is Ed, and he is battling cancer; thus I will request your prayers for our friend and his family.

We are saddened to report the passing of a good friend and retired design engineer, Cordes Potter. In addition, the passing’s of Lu Cook, widow of the late Hubert Cook (retired engineering technician) and Nina Anderson, wife of Carl Anderson (past assistant state engineer some years ago).

Hope you all have a wonderful spring and summer and please travel safely wherever your travels take you.

Carla Lawrence Report: Just wanted to let you know Alyce Hill passed on April 1st. There is no service planned. Pretty sad, she worked all those years only to be a ward of the state. Anyway, just wanted to let you know. All is well here in Boyd. It’s been raining all day, so we are happy.

Joyce Swartzendruber Report: Greetings from Livingstone, Zambia. Jim and I are traveling throughout southern Africa for a few weeks, but got a good start with a view of Victoria Falls, and an introduction to lion research during our first days here.

!Joyce and Jim Swartzendruber on African safari.

!Jim and Joyce with small crash of white rhinos in Mosi-Oa-Tunya National Park, Zambia

We will also be in Zimbabwe, South Africa, Swaziland, and Mozambique before we head home to Bozeman.

Hal Hunter Report: Hal reported that the northern portion of Yellowstone Park native plant cover is 14% of its potential. Hal has been working since he retired from NRCS to try to get Yellowstone Park to improve the native plant cover. The amount of rainwater entering the soil is far less than it would be if the rangelands were in better condition and had more plant cover. The soil conservation districts and others need to work with Yellowstone Park to help them get the plant cover back to excellent condition.

Hal sent me a number of charts that show the current native plant condition at various sites in the northern portion of Yellowstone Park.

Harold (Boge) Kraut Report: Back in my younger days a friend and his dad worked at Rice Stix, which was a distributing company between the manufacturer and the merchants.

John and his dad worked for Rice Stix building display rooms. All of the lumber and plywood from the displays was hauled away to the dump, so instead of paying to haul it away I picked it up for free which was a good deal for both of us.
In addition to that, Rice Stix had merchandise returned to them from the merchants that had some small defect. Overalls brand was 50 cents. If they had been washed, they were 25 cents. John said "what size do you want," and I said size doesn't matter. Helen and I can both wear them, along with our seven kids. The lumber I hauled was made good use of by me and my neighbors.

My oldest brother worked for Heil Packing Co., a slaughter house with all kinds of meat, hogs, and cows. I bought a model A Ford truck (low speed). The hill had to be steep to get it up to 30 mph. My brother, in addition to working for Heil, had about 10 acres south of St. Louis, and he raised hogs. He bought feeder pigs and fed them garbage he picked up on his way home. That lasted quite a while until the little town wouldn't let him do it anymore. So he loaded up the pigs and brought them up to me and dumped them out.

I had ear corn in the corn crib which we knew wouldn’t last long. My brother had also been picking up stale (day-old) bread from Colonic Baking Company. So he got me a contract taking all their stale bread, which was perfectly good. So I started feeding the hog's day-old bread.

The neighbors knew when I went to get a load and waited at our house until I got back. They replenished their supply (no charge). How could you charge your neighbors a penny a loaf for the bread?

Scott Hoag Jr. Report: Scott and Nancy report not much change from two months ago. The first day of spring arrived and it's now "springtime in the Rockies" —some sun, some snow, and overnight temps less than 40. Scott and Nancy are in Maple Valley, WA with Nancy's sister helping get their 96-year-old mother into an adult care facility. A hard piece of business and a wake-up call for us to get our affairs in order.

Gooby Ranch Report: It’s just about impossible to figure out ahead what the weather gods are going to do. We changed our calving time to start the middle of April to get away from the freezing temperatures and snowy weather. Well guess what: yesterday it rained like crazy, then snowed six inches. Last night the temperature was way down in the teens. When Mary Ann went out to check the cows, sure enough one decided to pop out a calf. She just wouldn’t wait 'till the weather got decent again. There was way-better weather in January to calve than we are having this spring.

Mary Ann went out to look at the calf, and it was so cold and just shaking, and it couldn’t get up since the snow was so deep, wet, and slick. Mary Ann came back to the house to get me to help her get the calf in the barn out of the cold, and help her get the cow in the stall so she could milk the cow and feed the calf, since it was so out of energy from fighting the wet and cold weather.

I had a conference call coming up in a few minutes, so I couldn't help Mary Ann. I recommended that she wait to get the calf in until after the conference call, but she was afraid the calf wouldn’t make it if she waited. It was an important conference call, so I had to get on the call. I wanted to help Mary Ann really bad but I couldn’t.

Mary Ann went out and got everything set up to get the calf in the barn, then got the wheelbarrow so she could put the calf in the wheel barrow and wheel the calf into the barn.

I entered the conference call-in number and was put on hold until the host got on. I was able to look out the window to see what Mary Ann was doing. She took the wheelbarrow and headed out in the field to get the calf. The spotting scope I got Mary Ann for her birthday a few years ago really helps me keep my eye on her.

As Mary Ann was getting closer to the calf, the cow was getting more nervous and didn’t think she wanted Mary Ann too close to her baby. Every time Mary Ann tried to pick it up and put it in the wheelbarrow, the cow would butt the wheelbarrow and knock it over. It’s a good thing I had taught Mary Ann to lift with her legs because she was getting a lot of practice in lifting the calf. After the 26th time, the cow didn’t butt the wheelbarrow, so Mary Ann grabbed the handles and started dragging the wheelbarrow backwards so she could keep her eye on the cow. Fortunately, the cow didn’t try to kill Mary Ann but was concentrating on the wheel barrow. Even though the cow kept butting the wheelbarrow Mary Ann was able to keep it upright.

Finally, Mary Ann got the calf and cow in the barn and came to the house to take a break. The whole time she was out getting the calf into the barn I was on hold waiting to get on the conference call. When Mary Ann got to the house I looked up the email with the conference call information and I had punched in the wrong number. I don’t think I will tell Mary Ann that I messed up.

The NE Reitrees’ breakfast meetings were called to order with 15 members present in March, and 17 members present in April. Norm and Linda Helzer took a trip to Texas to see the whooping cranes. Norm reported that the population has now grown to around 300. Linda added over 100 bird species to her life list on the trip.

Roger Hammer spent Valentine's Day in Valentine, NE with his grandchildren. They then traveled to California to see a new granddaughter. He had one week at home, then had go back to California to attend his brother’s funeral.
Bill and Colleen Hance had a lengthy trip starting in Texas to attend a funeral. While there, Bill even rode a horse for the first time in many years and says he wasn’t even sore the next day. They spent some time in Shreveport, LA, then on to Hope, AR. In Hope, they visited both the home where Bill Clinton was born and his early childhood home. They went on to Washington, AR, which was the State Capital during the Civil War after the Union Army captured Little Rock. Homes in Washington have been restored to the period. The Hances’ final destination was in Elizabethtown, KY.

Sharon Potter writes: It should be noted that Harry recently received a plaque for his 30 years of service on the Town of Pamelia Planning Board. We look forward to attending our 15th (and last) graduation for grandchildren, which started with the ones from 8th grade. Especially pleased since they were all out of state. We have just completed a Conservation Easement on our property. There will be no development and hopefully many native birds will return. We feel this is a fitting legacy since Harry spent his career in conservation and has converted me in our almost 60 years of marriage. We are well and enjoy each day.

One of our ongoing projects is to identify all of the World War II veterans who worked for SCS/NRCS in North Carolina. We have identified 86 former employees who are WWII veterans. These NC veterans had distinguished service in Europe and the South Pacific serving in the Army, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard and Army Air Corps. Several participated in the invasion of Normandy, Battle of the Bulge, and the Battle of Remagen Bridge. One was a B-24 pilot, some were commanders of boats, and one was a driver for General Patton.

Only twelve of our North Carolina WWII veterans are still living, some of whom live out of state. Most are 90+ years old. They are Elton W. Askew, William E. Austin, Eugene Bobbitt, Arlie Culp, Erling Gamble, Lawrence Matheson, Julian McIntyre, Fred Patterson, Robert S. Tennant, Charles S. Wallace, Ormond C. Williams and Edwin Young.

The spring quarter retiree lunch held on April 24th at The Old Spaghetti Factory in Clackamas was a well-attended affair. Those attending were Lowell and Marian Kenedy, Eldena Vanderzanden, Jack Land, Chad McGrath, Clifton and Marva Deal, Bruce Newton, Gail Voge, Beckie Wray, Laurel and Rick Grimsted, Thor Thorson, Kay Denfeld, Bobbie Hart, Jeff Repp, Greta Keller, Rose Loehr, Ralph Wadleigh, Dick and Kathy Sylvester, Anna Cerotsky, Marcine Richmond, Lamont and Karen Robbins, Terry Mitchell, Roy Mann, Stephanie Aschmann, and yours truly, Don Stettler.

Jack Kanalz sent me his regrets saying he would be on the river trying to fill his salmon tag. He went on to tell me that he and Geneal recently returned from a two week trip to Portugal and Spain. The trip involved some land tours and a river cruise on the Douro River in Portugal. Russ Hatz said he would be taking a class on inspecting organic livestock operations. Further, he and Sue had recently spent seven weeks in Europe and three weeks in California.

Laurel Grimsted and Beckie Wray were welcomed as retirees attending their first quarterly lunch. A special greeting was given to Jack Land after a long absence. News from those attending the lunch included Bobbie Hart and Greta Keller telling of their success in chance games. Greta's big news, however, was that she now has a great granddaughter. Stefanie Aschmann reported that her dragon boat team had a good time in Australia. Unfortunately they did not do well with the race competition. Kay Denfeld told of her ukulele group performing in Scappoose. Kay also won a competition of pronouncing a Hawaiian word correctly. It helped that she lived in Hawaii for a time. Bruce Newton continues to enjoy sailing. Roy Mann announced that he is now totally retired. No more foreign assignments for him.

The summer quarter lunch is scheduled for the fourth Wednesday in July, the 27th, at the Peppermill Restaurant in Aloha. will have a welcome presentation, business meeting, and lunch, followed by the visit to the USAHEC. Details for the day will be forthcoming in the next PA BUGLE. Time to mark your calendars and plan to visit with friends and former coworkers on September 19th! It has been a few years since we met in south central PA. We hope to see a lot of old friends at this event.

The South Carolina Chapter had their spring meeting in Columbia SC on April 21st, 2016. The agenda included an update on activities of each member over the winter months, lunch, and presentations by Ellis Morrow on the past, present and future of SCS/NRCS with questions from the group. A few members shared key moments in their careers with SCS/NRCS, which did reflect some of the history of our agency that Ellis covered. As for myself, I will be running for my second term as County Council in McCormick County, SC and asked that someone assume the leadership role as South Carolina representative to ARCSE. Ellis Morrow and Grady Adkins agreed to share the position.

The March 2016 meeting of the SCS/NRCS Alumni Club will be held at 10am on Friday, March 18th, 2016, at St. Ann Catholic Church, 100 SW Alsbury Blvd., Burleson, Texas.
Twenty-six members attended the February 19 meeting. Those attending were: Bill Kuenstler, Emma Adams, Bill Adams, Arnold King, Willeene King, Clyde Goodman, Dennis Gaster, Dave Drennan, Marie Garsjo, Dennis Erinakes, Don Kapalka, Betty Sisson, Anita Plummer, Jere Rickman, Jim Rickman, Mark Boysen, Joyce Petty, Barbara Gillum, Bernelle Baxley, Elaine Davis, Billy Don Davis, Barbara Stockbridge, Dave Stockbridge, Don Newman, Mary Mattinson and Diann Wilmart. President Clyde Goodman called the meeting to order.

Correction: Marla Goodman enjoyed her cruise despite having recently had back surgery, NOT Achilles tendon surgery, as I reported previously.

Bernie Owen will give the program at our March meeting. He will talk about changes in the tax rules and provide information to help you with your 2015 taxes.

Bill Adams presented our program for February, on the subject of ham radio operation. Bill is an Extra Class ham radio operator, the highest level of licensing. He has been a ham radio operator for about 50 years. His wife, Emma, is also an Extra Class ham radio operator.

Ham radios are no longer the big, bulky boxes with big unsightly antennas, as they were depicted in the movies when we were growing up. The radio Bill brought to the meeting was about the size of a walkie-talkie, but with a longer antenna. He used it to chat with a pre-arranged contact about 2.5 miles east of Burleson. For international communication, the radio is about the size of a loaf of bread, but the antenna is much larger. Bill’s antenna at his house is a 90-foot piece of wire that is draped over a tree (to conceal it as much as possible) and connected to his radio. Bill has had this unit about a month, and in that time he has contacted people in 40 states.

Even with cell phones and the internet, ham radio still plays an important role during major emergencies. After Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast, they were the only means of communication for three days in that area.

We received an update from Dave Moffitt. “The holiday season and the month of January were just a blur in the Moffitt household. We had daughter Amy and her family from western Colorado with us in Fort Worth at Christmas. Our son, Brian and family, and daughter Cathleen spent most of the Christmas season with us as well. It was a great time! The down side was that Maryke’s sister was admitted to the hospital in Salt Lake City with pneumonia. Elly seemed to react well to the hospital care and medication at first, but passed away on January 2nd with Maryke and friends by her side. With the assistance of our two daughters, Maryke and I spent a week emptying her assisted living apartment and settling her affairs. We were home a little less than a week (I had acquired pneumonia while in Salt Lake) when we left for San Francisco and a cruise that included Hawaii and the Baja. Hawaii was beautiful as always. We had rain one morning, but the rest of the days were sunny and warm. The highlights for us are always the flowers and the whales. We arrived home the first week in February with just enough time to do laundry, look at 250 e-mails, and pack a bag for me to visit Washington, DC, as a part of my work with Texas A&M’s AgriLife Research.”

Mark Boysen and his wife just returned from two weeks in Israel and Jordan. A trip like that would make a great program for our meeting sometime, Mark (hint, hint!). Marie Garsjo announced that she would be 60 years old February 24th.

Mary Mattinson’s granddaughter received a four-year academic scholarship to Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls. She will also be on the soccer team there. Elaine and Billy Don Davis recently had the honor of caring for their two-year-old great granddaughter (although I think Elaine used the term “survived for five days”).

Barbara Gillum reported that her husband recently got hearing aids, and now he is amazed at how much he was missing. Arnold and Willeene King just returned from a trip to Mexico. They go to an area near Guadalajara.

Betty Sisson said she now believes that climate change is real. It is the middle of February, and she has roses in bloom. Don Kapalka is a proud grandfather of a one-month-old grandson.
Dave Drennan is enjoying the activities of his grandchildren. He has a grandson who plays on his high school soccer team, and his granddaughter is on the high school drill team. Bill and Rita Kuenstler were at their house in Florida in early February. They did some painting and quite a bit of work in the yard, trimming trees and shrubs. They are slowly getting things ready for the move down there.

Dennis Gaster reported that he has squirrels in his attic (better than bats in your belfry, Dennis!). He’s not going to call an exterminator, but is going to try to get them out himself, because “it’s personal this time.”

Clyde Goodman reports that Marla continues her rehab work after her back surgery. She is making progress, and they plan to take another cruise next winter.

The April 2016 meeting of the SCS/NRCS Alumni Club will be held at 10am on Friday, April 15th, 2016, at St. Ann Catholic Church, 100 SW Alsbury Blvd., Burleson, Texas.

Nineteen members attended the March 18 meeting. Those attending were: Earl Blakley, Dennis Gaster, Clyde Goodman, Joyce Petty, Anita Plummer, Mary Mattinson, Elaine Davis, Billy Don Davis, Dave Drennan, Barbara Stockbridge, Dave Stockbridge, Bob Rymell, Don Newman, Dennis Erinakes, Jerry McMinides, Don Kapalka, Maxine Owen, Bernie Owen, and Diann Wilmart. President Clyde Goodman called the meeting to order.

Karl Hickson, who was a former printing press operator in the National Cartography and Geospatial Center, died February 16th, 2016. Additional news provided by members stated that Bill Porter, OK, passed away recently as did John Malley, ME. Jane Seibel recently broke her hip and is now home under the good care of husband Doug.

Bernie Owen presented our program for March on the subject all dear to our hearts, Federal Income Tax. A number of information sheets were handed out by his able assistant, Maxine, and Bernie brought us up to date on the latest tax information. Members were interested in the gift tax. Up to $14,000 per person may be gifted without paying tax while gifts above that are taxed up to 40%. If married filing jointly, up to $28,000 per person may be gifted. The receiver of the gift does not pay any tax on the gift.

Health Information was a hot topic at the meeting. Dave Stockbridge stated that he got a mild case of shingles in January. Why was it mild? Dave had already received a shingles shot. Clyde Goodman said that the shingles shot does not prevent shingles, but greatly reduces its severity. Clyde also said that wife Marla also got shingles on March 12th, but cannot have a shingles shot because it is a live virus and her autoimmune system does not permit it. A steroid shot seemed to do the trick. In addition, Dennis Erinakes recommended getting a pneumonia shot. The pneumonia shot is good for five years, but do not get one after 80 years of age, per Don Kapalka. Shots are available at several pharmacies such as CVS and Walgreens. Dennis Erinakes also said to check the appearance of and codes imprinted on your pills against your prescription. He recently had an issue with this. It is amazing how much interest there is in health issues. Could it be that our age has something to do with it?

Barbara Stockbridge and Dave are going to England, Scotland, and Ireland next month. Don Kapalka is enjoying his 2-month old grandson, although he said the boy doesn’t do too much. Just wait a couple of years! Elaine and Billy Don Davis have their 4th great-grandchild due next month.

Dennis Erinakes will be giving us an update on the Prairie Lands Groundwater Conservation District activities at our April meeting. The district covers Ellis, Hill, Johnson, and Somervell Counties. He recently hunted snow geese in Nebraska where he reduced the bird population by fifty. The birds were fooled by 2,000 decoys! He hunts from 6am until 7pm each day.
He also stopped by the Tallgrass Prairie National Preserve in Kansas. He highly recommends a visit to the preserve. They even have bison there.

Diann Wilmart took a Greyhound bus trip to visit her boarding school roommate in Los Angeles, California and had a great time. I make that a shade over 1,400 miles! She talked with a fellow passenger who inherited some land near Pecos, TX, and he is interested in the soils on his property. She will put him in touch with NRCS personnel. However, Earl Blakley and others familiar with the area, say it is desert country out that way.

Dave Drennan is getting ready for a trip to Hawaii. He is going to Atlanta, Georgia next month to attend the wedding of his oldest granddaughter.

Dave Stockbridge said that Lake Granbury is plum full and the fish are very uncooperative. He got into the beer brewing hobby about three years ago and reported that his 10th batch of beer is nearly ready. Some of his beers are good and others are better. Friends are always available for tasting sessions.

Maxine Owen reported that her two oldest granddaughters visited over spring break and always enjoy going to the annual NRCS Credit Union meeting, mainly for you guessed it, the door prizes! Clyde Goodman reported that Marla is awaiting knee replacement after her health improves.

Margie Christie wrote that she had a wonderful Christmas with son Mark and his wife Amy and grandson Chris. She is very proud of Chris who just graduated from UCSD with a degree in electrical engineering.

Dennis Gaster is proud of his thirteen year-old grandson who was inducted into the National Honor Society. His eleven year-old granddaughter, who will be in seventh grade next fall, was thrilled that she made the cheerleading squad. Dennis has been participating in the YMCA Diabetes Prevention Program since last June and is happy to report some good weight loss and more importantly a reduction in his A1C numbers from 6.4 to 6.1 to 5.9. He still has to take Metformin, but the numbers are getting better. An A1C of 5.6 or less is the goal.

Niles Glasgow, John Peterson, Art Holland, Don Gohmert at Lunch at the Crazy Crab, HHI. We try and meet with Art every year we get to Hilton Head Island, SC.

Art Holland was the NTC Director in Broomall (Philadelphia), PA. He lives in Sun City, near Hilton Head Island, SC. He is still an associate director of his SWCD at 84, and assists his local RC&D council.

From Carl Bouchard: Again I had the privilege of serving as the official photographer for the Princess Program of the National Cherry Blossom Festival. I have lost track, but I think this is about 15 years where I have photographed some portion or all of the program, and Janet has been involved for many more years in one capacity or other. This year we had 58 young ladies representing most states and territories as well as seven countries. A surprise this year was that we had six young ladies who are studying chemical, mechanical (aerospace) and bio-medical engineering. That is over 10 percent of the class. Things are promising for the future. If anyone is interested, they can look at the pictures at https://www.flickr.com/photos/141242815@N05/albums.
Ron and Ann Marlow report that a highlight of 2015 included an eight-day trip in June to Santa Cruz, NM to attend the wedding of a good friend at Santa Cruz de la Canada Church, built in the 1730s. Prior to the wedding, they had a great time visiting the Painted Desert, Petrified Forest, Hubbell Trading Post, Window Rock (see picture), and Canyon De Chelly in Arizona; Mesa Verde in Colorado; and Four Corners. Window Rock, AZ is the Capitol of the Navajo Nation. After the wedding, they visited friends in Las Cruces from Ron’s time in the USAF in the early 70s.

John and Blanche Peterson, along with 125 other charter season ticket holders of DC’s Major League Soccer (MLS) club, the DC United, were honored at the April 23rd match versus the New England Revolution, marking the 20th anniversary of its RFK debut. DC United is the last MLS original team to remain at the same venue, RFK Stadium, for the first 20 years. The team is building a new stadium strictly for soccer near the Washington Nationals ballpark, at Buzzard Point near Ft. McNair. The original season ticket holders, called the 96’ers for the year when the team and league started, were recognized on the field prior to the game’s start. DC United won 3-0.
The annual South State Conservationists and Friends gathering was held in Fredericksburg, VA, April 24-27, 2016. This is always a fun, social reunion of many retired SCS/NRCS people whose families have become friends and enjoyed each other's company over the years. The group socialized on Sunday, did some local sightseeing on Monday, had a golf scramble and did more sightseeing on Tuesday, and then all departed for home after breakfast on Wednesday. The hosts for this year's gathering were Dolores and Ed Nelson, Mary Ann and Gary Margheim, and Barbara and Warren Lee. Those attending were Jude and Rich Duesterhaus, Peggy and Ernie Todd, Barbara and Warren Lee, Shirley Klumpe, Carol Waite and Jerry Seinwill, Barbara and Coy Garett, Mary Ann and Gary Margheim, Dolores and Ed Nelson, Galen Bridge, Carolyn and Niles Glasgow, Barbara and Hershel Read, Sue and Bob Halstead, Carol and Dick Gallo, Blanche and John Peterson, Betty and Billy Miliken, Bill Richards, and Lee Frederick and Dennie Burns.

Tuesday evening, after the golf, more sightseeing and visiting, the group took a great Trolley Tour of historic Fredericksburg topped off by a wonderful dinner at the Bavarian Chef at the old train station. In 2017 Bill Richards has offered to host the gathering in Circleville, OH, aided by other volunteers. It may be in early May. Fredericksburg was an excellent choice for this gathering. In addition to great shopping and food, it is home to many historic sites; four War between the States Battlefields: Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, The Wilderness and Spotsylvania Court House. The Stonewall Jackson Shrine, where Jackson Died is close by. George Washington's boyhood home, Ferry Farm; Chatham Manor used as a field hospital during the battle of Fredericksburg, and the only private home in America visited by three presidents, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Abraham Lincoln; Kenmore, one of the most elegant mansions in America and the home of George Washington's sister Betty and her family; the James Monroe Museum, the Confederate Cemetery, Martha Washington University were just some of the attractions visited. Carol Waite's art gallery, Brush Strokes, attracted many. It was noticed that the gang is walking just a bit slower each year. The Warren Lee golf team (Warren, Ed Nelson, Billy Miliken) defeated the Dick Gallo team (Dick, Ernie Todd, and Gary Margheim) by one stroke in a hard fought contest. Ed & Dick tied for the longest drive, and Ernie was closest to the pin. The Gallo team said that since Warren was in charge of the outing, the outcome was highly suspicious. The Warren team claimed that Billy was the real captain, and everyone knows he is absolutely trustworthy. Sounds like old times!

Present at our March/April luncheons at the Timber Creek Grill and Buffet were: Jud Melton, Lennie Husa, Joe Carmack, Harry Riehle, Ralph Schmidt, Larry and Jean Edmonds, Jerry Richard, Carl Vennes, Ken Kaul, and Larry Zehm. Lennie and Florence Husa will be traveling to Alaska on a two-week cruise trip. Carl Vennes will be on a fishing trip near Vancouver Island, BC. Larry Zehm enjoyed his recent veterans’ military flight and tour of Washington, DC. Ralph Schmidt sent us an update on his upcoming surgery. “One morning after walking six blocks following several weeks of walking as I was preparing for Bloomsday, I felt a burning sensation in my right chest. Three days later after walking 10 blocks I was exhausted. As a follow up I went to my family doctor, then a cardiologist and lastly to a surgeon. The final report is that I am scheduled for a double bypass on May 3rd at the Providence Heart Center.” Our thoughts are with Ralph and Lynn and we wish him a speedy recovery. And thank goodness we have the expertise and facilities here in Spokane to provide the help required.

James E. Thorn, former public affairs specialist, passed away on October 30th, 2015. You can read more in the obituary section of this newsletter.

Judy Barr Fairbanks gave the following update: Hi Retires! What a difference a week makes, one Saturday we had a blizzard, stacking up a foot of the white stuff; then the next Saturday it's bathing suit weather. Well, not for me but you get my “drift!” Haha.

The sad news is, the peach tree buds froze solid. But the good news is, the below-zero temps caused my Transparent Apple to be a late bloomer, so it's alive!

This week, a friend drove his tractor through town (only in Parsons) to plow my small garden. Although I protested, the farmer wouldn't take my money; he says he'll be blessed by helping widows, so I'm praying for Victor Beckman while plotting out rows.

It's hard to believe Terry died 10 years ago; I realize many of you have lost your loved ones, I just keep “putting in time” with Church, Board of Education, hospice care, catering and porch sitting. This winter I tore up old carpet and oil-stained maple hardwood floors! Yes, they would be awesome sanded and refinished, (I did that many years ago before my knees died), but my mixture of boiled Linseed oil and mineral spirits soaked right into this worn wood and it looks great. Kinda reminds me of the old oiled school house floors.

PS: if you ever try this treatment always throw out oily rags, they can spontaneous combust! I found that out 40 years ago while staining the cabin floor (almost caught fire!). I'm praying you are all well and enjoying spring! Take care and God Bless.

Peg Reese recently attended the Mountain Stage show at WVU's Creative Arts Center. All the performers were good, but Judy Collins was outstanding. Needless to say, a good time was had by all who attended.

<td>Bertsch</td>
<td>Life Member Walter John Bertsch (84) of Bryan, Texas passed away on January 15, 2015. Walter was born in Coffeyville, Kansas. His family relocated to Aransas Pass, Texas where he lived until he was 21. Walter's enjoyment of classical music and opera began in high school while learning to play the trombone. He became a fervent scholar of The Hebrew and New Testament scriptures and was passionate about living a life that reflected the teaching of Jesus. He served in the US Navy, 1951-1956, and was in the Navy band. During his final tour in Boston, Walter met his beloved Rhoda. They married June 2, 1956. The couple moved to College Station, Texas where Walter earned a BS from Texas A&amp;M University in 1961. Walter retired from the Soil Conservation Service in 1993 after 42 years of service in west Texas. He and Rhoda made Bryan their home in 2003 to be near children and grandchildren. Walter was a mentor and ardent supporter to their four children and spouses: Lawrence and Jill, John and Kent, Carol and Jody, Nancy and Kelly. To his six grandchildren, he was a gentle playmate, a family leader, and an amazing waffle chef. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions can be made to Hospice Brazos Valley Inpatient Care Facility, Bryan Texas; Friends Congregational Church; or your charity of choice.</td>

<td>Beutler</td>
<td>Charles Stanley Beutler (97) of Elk Grove, California passed away on March 7, 2016. Charles was a native of Gem County, Idaho. After graduation from H.S., he remained on the family farm working with no electricity until 1939 and no telephone at all. Like many of his peers, he joined the Army and served in MacArthur's reconstruction effort in Japan as a counter intelligence agent, serving as a carrier of top secret documents and later operated out of a unit that worked with Koreans in gathering intelligence in North Korea. After returning from the War and greatly benefiting from the GI Bill, Charles graduated from Brigham Young University with a B.A. degree in Agronomy, becoming the first from his home town to achieve this academic distinction. He married his wife of 64 years, Beth, the evening of his graduation. Soon after, Charles was able to join the Soil Conservation Service. In this role he was a major contributor to the soils mapping of several California Counties. Charles served as an officer in a variety of community and professional associations, including the coastal section of the Soil and Water Conservation Society of America. Along the way he and Beth also raised three great girls, Lisa, Rachael and Sylvia. He was the last living member of his own birth family and is survived by his wife, children, three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. Malley

John Crohan Malley (90) of South Portland (and formerly of Cape Elizabeth), Maine, passed away on March 4, 2016 after a long illness. John was born in Newton, Massachusetts. He graduated from the University of New Hampshire, Class of 1960, with a BS in Agriculture. He was a World War II veteran. He joined the US Navy at age 17 and served from 1943 to 1946 as a Medical Corpsman. With his father, he operated Indigo Hill Farms, Inc. in Somersworth from 1946 to 1956, maintaining a herd of Registered Guernsey Cattle. From 1956 to 1984, he worked for the USDA Soil Conservation Service as a Soil Conservationist in Concord and Exeter, New Hampshire, then transferring to Maine as a District Conservationist in Machias, Presque Isle and Portland. Following his retirement in 1984 from the USDA, he worked as a Resource/Land Use Planner for Sebago Technics, Inc. before starting his own consulting firm with a primary focus on land application of bio solids and septic system design. John was a skilled and avid yachtsman, and he and his wife cruised the coast of Maine extensively in an Albin 25 motor vessel named "Caper." After leaving the boating world, they traveled throughout the USA and Canada in their RV. John maintained a continuing interest in the Cumberland County Maine Soil and water Conservation District, serving 25 years as an Associate Supervisor until his retirement in early 2010. He is survived by his loving and devoted wife of 67 years, Irene (Mailhot) Malley; sons James (Anne) of Barre, Massachusetts; Robert (Becky) of Cape Elizabeth; daughters Mary McQueen of Marietta, Georgia; and Nancy (David) Erb of Scarborough; along with several grandchildren, great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild. Ludwig

William L. Ludwig (89) of Eagle River, Wisconsin passed away March 20th, 2016, on his birthday. Bill was born in Plymouth, Wisconsin. He served in the US Navy in the Pacific during World War II. Upon returning home he began his college career in Stevens Point and later transferred to the University of Wisconsin-Madison, graduating in 1951 with a BS in agriculture. He began his career with the Soil Conservation Service as a soil scientist and worked in Madison, Wausau, Ashland, Stratford, Neillsville, and Rhinelander, Wisconsin, and out of state at Athens, GA and Des Moines, IA. While in Neillsville he played drums with the Howie Sturtz Orchestra for 12 years, appeared often on TV's Dairyland Jubilee, and recorded four albums. Bill loved the Big Band era music. He obtained his private pilot's license and became active with the Civil Air Patrol. Bill was always headed to a meeting, as he was forever on a board of directors or a committee most of his life and even into retirement--too many to list. After retiring in 1984, Bill began his second career as a strawberry farmer. He worked tirelessly perfecting the biggest, most delicious strawberry he could. He loved working on his land! And "weather permitting" he was out hoeing, plowing, irrigating, bulldozing, or just walking around assessing things, sunup to sundown. Over the last six months, Bill fought his battle, but in the end succumbed to the insidious Alzheimer’s disease. He is survived by his wife of 68 years, Shirley and their three daughters, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild. You may leave your private condolences for the Ludwig family at www.carlsonfh.com.
